USING THE TEXTBOOK

The Student's Book has two versions:

Student's Book – printed version

Student's Book – digital version

(includes, apart from the information from the printed version, over 100 AMII – multimedia interactive learning activities)

The Student's Book contains:
10 Units + Extras

Each unit has the following structure:

Reading 1 + Speaking + Grammar 1 + Vocabulary 1 + Listening + Grammar 2 + Reading 2 + Vocabulary 2 + Photostory (in odd units) + Functions + Culture (in even units) + Writing + Extras (Literature, Grammar reference, Pronunciation, Get it right!, Student A / Student B, Project time, Wordlist and Irregular verbs).

There is a Review and an Evaluation test after every two units and also two Final evaluation tests.

The following icons were used to mark the three types of multimedia interactive learning activities (AMII):

STATIC AMII – listening and studying an image/Activitate statică, de ascultare și observare a unei imagini

ANIMATED AMII – film and animation/Activitate animată (film/animație)

INTERACTIVE AMII – exercise with immediate feedback after solving/Activitate interactivă, de tip exercițiu, cu feedback imediat în urma rezolvării

The first reading section sets the scene for the unit ...

Pre-reading activities activate students' prior knowledge.

Opportunities for personalisation, for developing students' spoken fluency and for promoting collaboration between students through pair and group work.

Objectives, focusing on skills and language.

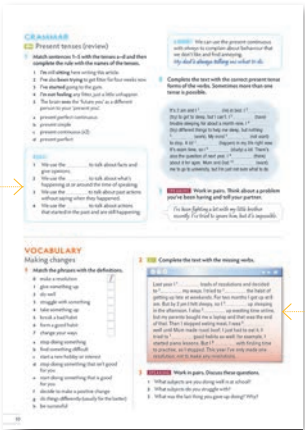

Sequence of exercises that helps students to unlock the text.

Reading texts are about contemporary topics that teens can relate to.

Train to think invites students to consider their broader opinions through reflection on the reading text.

Students discover the rule for themselves, via an inductive approach to learning grammar, with the help of scaffolding.

Lexical sets are presented with clear visuals to support immediate understanding of new vocabulary items.

The listening section follows established procedure: a pre-listening activity, a listen-for-gist task and an activity which tests understanding at a deeper level.

Examples of the target grammar are taken directly from the reading text. Language is introduced in context, making it more meaningful for students.

The second reading section introduces a new language focus.

Students are guided through established reading skills procedure of predicting, reading for gist and reading for detailed understanding.

Values helps students to empathise with the attitudes and opinions of others and consider their values.

In all odd numbered units you'll find the photostory ...

Each episode of the photostory involves British teens but is a complete story in itself.

See how the story concludes in the video.

WordWise takes a word or phrase which has a number of different meanings in English and provides analysis and practice using them.

Students predict the ending of the story before they watch.

Phrases for fluency focuses on authentic language that students can use in conversation to make them sound more natural and fluent.

Key phrases for a particular speaking function are explored in the Functions section.

... and in all even numbered units, a culture text.

The focus of the Culture section is on getting students to think and talk about life in other countries and how it compares with their own.

Extended writing section, designed to guide students step-by-step through the writing process.

Students are presented with a model text for analysis of task purpose.

The Culture text is primarily exploited for its informative rather than linguistic content. Students are encouraged to respond to the text and relate it to their own experiences and cultures.

LET'S PRACTISE! and TEST YOURSELF consolidate content from each pair of units.

Exercises on this page provide further practice.

The Test Yourself page allows students to check progress and is based on language presented in this and the previous unit.

This text introduces your students to English-Language fiction. Comprehension questions and follow-up discussion questions help students to understand and engage with the text.

Project time section provides five optional projects containing a very clear model to guide students while working on them.

  - leaving your homework until the last minute
  - forgetting important dates
  - texting when you shouldn't
  - playing computer games when you should be studying

- 5  Read the article again and listen. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- 1 The writer has to finish the article by the following day.
- 2 The writer is finding it easy to lead a healthier life.
- 3 We use different parts of our brain depending on who we're thinking about.
- 4 Our brains don't always let us make good choices for our future selves.
- 5 It takes just under two months for our brains to feel happy with changes to our lifestyles.
- 6 The writer has decided that she'll never be able to change her habits.

I miss my bad habits

I don't believe it! It's 11 pm and I'm still sitting here writing this article for the school magazine! I've had two weeks to write it and my teacher wants it tomorrow. She's always complaining that I leave things to the last minute. Maybe she's right. A month ago, I made a resolution to be more efficient this year and to never leave things to the last minute. Well, I've failed. At the moment, I guess kids all over the country are thinking back to the resolutions they made at the beginning of the school year. Some of them have already given up for this year. Others are still doing well. Many, I suspect, like me, are struggling with them. I've also been trying to get fitter for four weeks now. I've started going to the gym, I've taken up karate lessons and I've changed my diet. I've even been going to bed earlier. But I'm not feeling any fitter, just a little unhappier. I miss my bad habits. Why is leading a better life so hard?

I've just read an article on a website and I've discovered that it isn't my fault! In fact, it isn't anyone's fault. It's our brains. They're programmed to make it difficult to break bad habits. There's nothing we can do. For example, you're sitting up late playing Minecraft. You know you've got an important test tomorrow, so why don't you just turn off the computer and go to bed? As I said, it's your brain's fault. Scientists have done experiments that show we use one part of our brain when we think about ourselves and another when we think about other people. However, when we think about ourselves in the future, we use the same part of the brain that we usually use to think about other people. In other words, the brain sees the 'future you' as a different person to your 'present you'. And that's why we don't always find it easy to make sensible decisions for ourselves in the future.

But that's not all. Scientists have also discovered that it takes around ten weeks to form a good habit. For example, it's going to take another six weeks before going to the gym stops being so difficult and becomes an automatic part of my life. That's because ten weeks is the amount of time the brain needs to change and accept new behavioural patterns as part of everyday life. The good news is that once you make it to ten weeks, everything becomes a lot easier. The bad news is that ten weeks is a really long time, so it's easy to give up on your good intentions sooner.

So there you are. Maybe we want to change our ways and become better people but our brains won't let us. Or is this just an excuse? Look – I've finished my article on time! Anything is possible!

TRAIN TO THINK

Reading between the lines

Sometimes a writer doesn't tell us everything directly: we need to draw conclusions from the information the writer gives. We call this 'reading between the lines'.

Answer the questions and give reasons for your answers.

- 0 Who is the writer? (paragraph 1)
She's a schoolgirl – she's writing for the school magazine and mentions her teacher.
- 1 Does the writer feel guilty that she hasn't finished the article? (paragraph 1)
- 2 Does she enjoy exercise? (paragraph 1)

SPEAKING

Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 What resolutions are you going to make for this school year?
- 2 What do you think is the secret of changing your life for the better?

Careful planning.

Do work first, play later.

Listen to your parents.

GRAMMAR

Present tenses (review)

1 Match sentences 1–5 with the tenses a–d and then complete the rule with the names of the tenses.

  - 2 I've also been trying to get fitter for four weeks now.
  - 3 I've started going to the gym.
  - 4 I'm not feeling any fitter, just a little unhappier.
  - 5 The brain sees the 'future you' as a different person to your 'present you'.
- a present perfect continuous
  - b present simple

LOOK! We can use the present continuous with always to complain about behaviour that we don't like and find annoying.

My dad's always telling me what to do.

2 Complete the text with the correct present tense forms of the verbs. Sometimes more than one tense is possible.

It's 2 am and I <sup>1</sup> _____ (lie) in bed. I <sup>2</sup> _____ (try) to get to sleep, but I can't. I <sup>3</sup> _____ (have) trouble sleeping for about a month now. I also <sup>5</sup> _____ up wasting time online, but my parents bought me a laptop and that was the end of that. Then I stopped eating meat. ## For a better life ...

Life can be hard, and when our plans don't work out, it's often easy to blame others. Sometimes we expect too much from friends and family, and when they don't act as we think they should, we feel disappointed. Maybe it would be easier if we stopped expecting so much from other people. No one is perfect, and that includes you.

So you want to travel the world before you do a degree, but your parents don't think it's a good idea. Of course, it's great if other people can support you in your decisions, but you can't keep everyone happy all of the time. It's your life and you need to make the decisions to make you happy.

2 _____

Don't worry if there are people who aren't very nice to you, because there are plenty of people who are. They're called your friends. Spend time with them and avoid the others. And when it comes to finding that special person and settling down, remember: there's somebody for everyone.

3 _____

You've been practising football all summer. You think you're good enough to be in the school team, but the teacher doesn't seem to agree. Maybe he just hasn't thought about it at all. He isn't a mind reader, so tell him. Then at least he knows what you're thinking. He might even choose you.

4 _____

People can change, but they don't usually do it because someone else wants them to. You can try and tell them what you're not so happy about, so at least they know, but don't be too disappointed if they carry on doing exactly the same things. You have a choice: accept them or walk away.

5 _____

From their Facebook updates, you'd believe that all your friends are happy all the time and leading exciting lives. Of course, they aren't, just like you know that your life isn't always perfect. We all go through hard times and we often try to hide it. Be kind to people. Maybe they are having a bad day and your smile could make a big difference.

- 1 Look back at the paragraph. How many things are needed to start a big fire? List them.
- 2 What were those things in London in 1666?

The beginning of Paragraph 3 says: 'The fire spread quickly but it was also extremely difficult to fight.'

- 3 Look back at the paragraph. Why was the fire difficult to fight?

The Great Fire of London

The event that changed the face of 17th-century London forever

It was 1 am on Sunday 2 September, 1666. London was sleeping. In a small bakery in Pudding Lane, Thomas Farriner and his workers were busily making bread for the coming day when, suddenly, a fire broke out. Just four days later, thousands of houses had been destroyed and countless people were homeless. How did this happen, and why was the damage so serious?

For a fire to start, three things are needed: a spark, fuel and oxygen. In the bakery in Pudding Lane, a maid didn't tend to the ovens properly. They got too hot and sparks began to fly. The weather that year had been extremely hot. It hadn't rained for months. But people knew winter was coming, so they'd stocked their cupboards with food and oil. *Warehouses were full of wood, coal and other winter *supplies. A strong wind was blowing from the east. The situation provided the perfect conditions for flames to spread quickly. What followed was one of the biggest disasters of the 17th-century world.

The fire spread quickly, but it was also extremely difficult to fight. It started in a poor area of the city, where houses were built very close to one another. Tens of thousands of people were living in very small spaces. A simple house was often home to many families as well as *lodgers. As the catastrophe struck, people panicked. Some had to smash their doors to get out of their homes. The streets were blocked with people and with material that had fallen from houses. Many people had grabbed their most important possessions and were trying to escape from the flames with them. They screamed in terror and suffered from the heat and the smoke. Some ran away from the city on boats. Others simply dived into the river to save themselves.

The fire was so strong that the Duke of York put a plan into action. His soldiers demolished a large warehouse full of paper. This robbed the fire of more fuel and created a 'fire break' that the flames could not jump over. At about this time, the wind also changed direction, driving the fire back into itself. At last, the flames became less strong enough to be controlled. The fire was finished.

Although surprisingly few people lost their lives, at least 13,000 houses – 80 per cent of the city's buildings – had burned to the ground. Thousands of people had become homeless and had lost everything they owned. Gradually, people rebuilt the houses in ruins, but this took several years. Many Londoners moved away from their city and never returned.

*warehouse – a large building for storing things

*supply – food or other things necessary for living

*lodger – someone who pays for a place to sleep, and usually for meals, in someone else's house

SPEAKING

Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 What other events would you suggest for the Events that shook the world series? Why?
- 2 If you had to leave your home in a hurry and had the time to save three things, what would you choose?

Scenario A:  /

Work on a huge multi-million-pound shopping centre has been stopped because nests of an extremely rare frog have been found in the area. It is one of only five places where this frog breeds. The property developers are putting pressure on the local government, saying it will be a disaster for the economy if they aren't allowed to finish the job.

Scenario B:  /

Scenario C:  /

There is a hotel that's very popular with tourists because it's close to a beautiful forest. The forest is home to a species of large spider. Although it's harmless, people working in the hotel have been given strict orders to kill any spiders that get into the guest rooms.

Family life in 17th-century Britain

By the 17th century, life in Europe had started to become more comfortable for those who had money. Trade had become more important, and the number of people who could read and write was starting to grow. But while the rich were enjoying good food, poetry and the theatre, life for the poor hadn't changed much at all. Here are a few examples of what ordinary family life was like in the olden days.

A typical household

Women used to have seven or eight children, but one in every three children died before reaching one year of age. Many children had to leave home when they were as young as seven years old to work as shepherds or helpers on farms. There weren't many elderly people in the families because people died much younger than they usually do today. Few people expected to live beyond 40. In fact, children frequently grew up without parents at all.

A crowded life

Ordinary people used to live in one-room houses, together with chickens, goats or even cows. Only richer families had mattresses. On cold nights, everyone in the family would crowd together to sleep, to warm each other up. Unfortunately, this had a bad effect on people's health. Lice infestations were very common, and if one person suffered from an illness, everybody else would get it too. Taking a bath was such a rare event that everybody smelled bad.

Childcare

Life didn't allow people to spend a lot of time with their children. Parents used to leave even very young children on their own for most of the day. Records from that time report many stories of children who got too close to the fire and burned to death. But even when parents were with their children, they didn't care for them in the ways we're used to parents doing today. Children were often simply considered workers. Parents didn't use to sing songs to their children or play with them. It used to be normal to call a child 'it' rather than 'he' or 'she'.

It's often easy to fantasise about the past and think how wonderfully simple life was compared to all the pressure we face in our day-to-day lives. But was it really so great? For most people, it probably wasn't.

- 3 Read the article again. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false). Correct the false sentences.

- 1 Life in the 17th century was difficult for everybody, no matter how much money they had.
- 2 Grandparents often used to live with the families and look after the young children.
- 3 There wasn't a lot of space in most people's homes and they often shared it with their animals.
- 4 Children sometimes died because their parents weren't very concerned about their safety.
- 5 Parents these days spend more time with their children than they did in the olden days.

- 4 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 Compare family life in the 17th century with family life now. What are the most striking differences?
- 2 What do you think life will be like 100 years from now? Will it be easier? If so, how?

Where life is really hard

It's the end of the winter. Most people have been inside for weeks. They haven't seen the sun for a long time. But some men are outside. It's bitterly cold, with temperatures of around  $-45^{\circ}$  Celsius, and the freezing wind makes the situation difficult for them to bear.

These men are hunters, and the survival of the people they've left behind in the villages depends on how successful their hunt is.

Akycha is one of these men. He's been out hunting for more than a week now. While he's away from home, he stays overnight in a little igloo that he's made himself from ice and snow. The igloo protects him from the freezing wind. Inside, there's a little stove for cooking, and a small stone lamp which provides light. Together, they help to create a temperature of around  $12^{\circ}$  Celsius.

Right now, Akycha is several kilometres away from his igloo. He's riding his snowmobile along the coast, far out on the frozen sea. Suddenly, he can see something in the distance. He stops his snowmobile and checks through his binoculars. It's a seal. If he's lucky and his hunt goes well, the meat he brings home should last his family for several weeks.

Akycha and his people are part of the Inuit community. Most of them still live a very traditional life, a life that makes them dependent on hunting seals and whales. Some of them also live off the reindeer they keep.

The Inuit are indigenous people of the Arctic Circle. The Arctic Circle is a huge land area that belongs to a number of northern countries: Russia, the USA, Canada, Greenland, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Iceland. The northern environment is an exceptional habitat. Temperatures are low during most of the year and summers are short, which means that plants can only grow for a few weeks every year. If the reindeer eat the moss that grows in a certain area, it can take up to 30 years for the plants to grow back. This is why Inuits who make a living from keeping and breeding reindeer have to be constantly on the move with their herds.

For most of us, life is less hard than it is for the Inuit people. But maybe we can learn something from them. Their traditional way of life is a model of living in partnership with nature, rather than exploiting and destroying it.

3 Read the article again. Answer the questions.

The fall of the Berlin Wall

For 28 years, Berlin was a divided city. Ever since its construction in 1961, a huge wall had stopped citizens from East Germany visiting their neighbours in the west. Many people had tried. Some were successful, but many more died, shot as they attempted to get to the other side.

In 1989, there were a number of radical political demonstrations across Eastern Europe, as the people of countries such as Poland and Hungary protested against their governments and managed to change them. On 9 November, the East German government announced that their people were free to visit the western side of the city.

That evening, thousands of East Berliners rushed to the wall and asked the guards to open the gates. The border guards didn't know what to do. While the crowds were singing, the guards phoned their bosses for orders. It soon became clear that they had no choice but to let the people pass. On the other side, West Berliners greeted the crowds with flowers and champagne. People climbed up onto the top of the wall and began dancing on it to celebrate their new freedom. People started smashing down the wall. Many grabbed bricks as souvenirs. A little later, the government sent in bulldozers to demolish the wall. The wall was soon gone and, 339 days later, the two nations of East and West Germany also became one.

OBJECTIVES

FUNCTIONS: comparing actions; making invitations; obligation and necessity

GRAMMAR: expressing possibility, obligation, permission, and prohibition; necessity: didn't need to / needn't have

VOCABULARY: types of films; types of TV programmes; expressions with get

READING

1 Look at the photos and match them with the following forms of entertainment.

- 1 video game | 2 concert | 3 film
4 play | 5 sports event | 6 TV programme

2 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- Why do you think people like or don't like them? Use the words in the list to help you.

relaxing | interesting | fun | expensive
crowds | friends | enjoyable

3 Now look at the pictures and the title of the article on page 27. What do you think the article is about? Then read and check.

- the high price of horror films
- the salaries of famous film actors
- a film that was made very cheaply

4  Read again and listen to the article. Find:

- two examples of very expensive films.
- two reasons why it is possible to say that Monsters was successful.
- four reasons why Monsters wasn't expensive to make.
- the amount of time Gareth Edwards worked on the film after filming.

Big movies

on a small budget

Do you need millions of dollars to make a movie? No. Do you need millions of dollars to make a successful movie? Most people would answer 'Yes' to that question. But would they be right?

<sup>1</sup>We're used to hearing about really expensive Hollywood films. The 1997 Oscar-winner Titanic cost $200 million to make, and more recently, Avengers: Endgame, one of the most successful films of 2019 and one of the most expensive films ever made, had a budget of more than $350 million.

<sup>2</sup>To be successful, however, a film doesn't need to be as expensive as the big Hollywood blockbusters. An example of this is the 2010 movie Monsters, which cost less than half a million dollars to make. Monsters is set in Mexico and is the story of two people trying to escape from aliens and get back to the USA. The film won several awards and got very good reviews from many film critics – for example, the website Moviefone put Monsters at number 3 in its list of the best sci-fi films for 2010.

<sup>3</sup>How did they make the film so cheaply? First of all, it only took three weeks to film, and the film crew was just seven people in a van. Secondly, the man who made the film, Gareth Edwards, decided to film it with digital video, which is cheaper than the usual 35mm film. (The film equipment cost only $15,000 altogether.) There is also the fact that they used real locations, not a studio. They were allowed to film in different places. And the cast of the film were Edwards himself and two friends of his – we mustn't forget to mention that all the extras in the film were people who were just there, and they weren't paid.

<sup>4</sup>Most importantly, Edwards did most of the production work himself. He spent eight months editing Monsters and then five months creating the special effects. He didn't let other people interfere in the production of special effects. And he did it all at home on his computer, using non-professional software. The amazing thing is that the final film looks nearly as professional as big, fancy Hollywood productions.

<sup>5</sup>Not everybody liked Monsters, of course. One person said: 'That's 90 minutes of my life that I'll never get back.' The film may be considered boring by some, but overall, it was very well received. And at least it wasn't expensive to make and everybody should appreciate the effort made by the entire team in this regard.

TRAIN TO THINK

Identifying the main topic of a paragraph

Writers start a new paragraph when they want to change the topic.

The opening line of a paragraph usually gives you a clue about its topic.

Look at paragraphs 2 and 3. What is the topic of each paragraph? Tick (✓) two options.

- A Hollywood films are expensive to make
- B you can make successful films with little money
- C some special effects are really bad
- D how to make a low-budget film

SPEAKING

Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 Do you know any other Hollywood film that cost a lot of money to make?
- 2 Does a film need expensive special effects to be successful? Give examples.

GRAMMAR

Expressing possibility, obligation, permission and prohibition

1 Complete the sentences from the text on page 27. Then complete the rule with let, may, must, should, need to and not be allowed to.

- The film _____ be considered boring by some, but it was very well received.
- A film _____ be as expensive as the big Hollywood blockbusters.
- Everybody _____ appreciate the effort made by the entire team.
- He didn't _____ other people interfere in the production of special effects.
- We _____ forget to mention that all the extras in the film were people who were just there.

RULE: To express obligation or necessity, we can use have to or <sup>1</sup>_____ (as in sentence 5). To say something is (or isn't) a good idea, we can use <sup>2</sup>_____ (as in sentence 3). To express no obligation or necessity, we can use don't have to or don't <sup>3</sup>_____ (as in sentence 2). To express permission, we can use <sup>4</sup>_____ (as in sentence 4). To say that something is not permitted we use <sup>5</sup>_____.

LOOK:

had better = something is a good idea and is often used as a warning. The form is always had better + base form of verb, even when talking about the present.

be supposed to = there's an obligation to do something but in reality people don't always do it. It is always used in the passive form (like be allowed to)

2 Complete the second sentence so that it has a similar meaning to the first sentence. Use the word given. You must use between two and five words including the word given.

- Their daughter can't go out after 8 pm. (allowed)
Their daughter _____ go out after 8 pm.
- Our teacher expects us to put up our hand if we want to ask a question. (supposed)
We _____ put up our hand if we want to ask a question.

You needn't have [bought two tickets] because I did ...

- 1 Did the speaker go to the cinema stadium?
- 2 Did you buy two tickets?

RULE: When we use <sup>1</sup>_____, it means that someone did something but in fact it wasn't necessary.
When we use <sup>2</sup>_____, it often means that someone didn't do something because it wasn't necessary.

GRAMMAR

📺 Adverbs and comparative adverbs

1 Look at the sentences from the TV listings. Complete them with the words in the list.

popular | easy | easily | carefully

- It isn't _____ living without electricity.
- I answered the questions _____.
- She needs to think _____.
- He's the host of a _____ game show.

2 Circle the adverbs in the previous exercise. Then complete the rules with adjective and adverb.

RULES:

- Use an _____ to talk about a noun:
He's a slow runner.
- Use an _____ to talk about a verb:
He runs slowly.

We usually form an _____ by adding -ly (or -ily) to the _____, but some adverbs are irregular: fast → fast, good → well.

3 Write the adverbs.

- |           |                |        |       |
|-----------|----------------|--------|-------|
| 0 quick   | quickly | 4 good | _____ |
| 1 careful | _____          | 5 bad  | _____ |
| 2 clever  | _____          | 6 easy | _____ |
| 3 clear   | _____          | 7 fast | _____ |

4 Look at the examples of comparative adverbs from the tweets on page 30. Then complete the rules.

- 1 She should think more carefully than her sister did.
- 2 He should speak more clearly.
- 3 I answered the questions better than them.

RULE: To form the comparative of most regular adverbs, add the word _____ before the adverb.

If an adverb has one syllable, make the comparative by adding -er: soon → sooner, hard → harder, fast → faster.

- There are some irregular comparative adverbs: badly → worse, well → better.
- Notice that the comparative of early is written earlier.

5 Complete the sentences. Use the comparative adverb forms of the words in brackets.

- 0 Sue runs faster (fast) than me.
- 1 Graham writes _____ (clear) than me.
- 2 You need to do your homework _____ (careful) if you want to get good marks.
- 3 Sorry, I don't understand. Can you speak _____ (slow), please?

- 5 I only got 22% in the test, but you did even _____ (bad) than me!
- 6 Sandra always works _____ (hard) than the other kids.
- 7 Martina speaks English _____ (good) than I do.

OLIVIA They're going to make a film here.
LUKE Oh. Right. You've heard then?
RYAN We have. They're going to do some filming in the park. For a new sci-fi movie. And Megan's really excited.
MEGAN I really am. Gregory Harris is in the film. He's so cool. In fact, I think he's my favourite actor of all time!

LUKE Don't get too excited, Megan. You're not going to meet him. Or even see him, probably.

LUKE Extras?
MEGAN You know - the people who stand around and do things but don't say anything.

OLIVIA Ryan's going, and so am I. How about you, Luke?
LUKE OK, why not? One o'clock at the Sports Centre? Let's all meet there then.

RYAN That's odd. There's no one here.
OLIVIA Have a look at this, guys. The time was eleven o'clock, not one o'clock.
MEGAN Oh, no! I read it wrong. I saw eleven and thought it was one! Oh, how could I be so stupid?

MIKE HORNBY'S VERY INTERESTING BLOG PAGE

Why aren't people more interested in science?

Welcome to my blog, where I write about the things that really interest me! This week I want to talk a bit about science, scientists and science stories.

Let's start with Newton. We all know the story, don't we? Back in about 1666, Isaac Newton was visiting his mother one day and was walking around in her garden. He sat down under an apple tree and started thinking. (Newton was always thinking about something, that's what scientists do.) So, he was sitting and thinking when an apple <sup>1</sup>fell out of the tree and hit the ground beside him. (Some people say the apple fell on his head, but who knows?) And Newton thought about why things <sup>2</sup>fall down and not up or sideways. And he got the idea of gravity.

Nice story, isn't it? Only it's probably not true. Or, at least, we've got no way of knowing if it's true. It's a bit like Archimedes and the bath. You don't know that one?

OK, so a Greek mathematician was sitting in his bath one day, more than two thousand years ago, and while he was getting out, he noticed that the water <sup>3</sup>went down in the bath. So he got back in, and the water <sup>4</sup>went up. 'Now I understand!' shouted Archimedes – actually, he shouted 'Eureka!' because he was Greek, not English. He saw that the level of the water in the bath was directly related to exactly how much of his body was in the water, that this relationship was constant – it never changed! Some people say that he was so happy about his discovery that he ran out into the street without putting his clothes on. No, that probably didn't happen either, but he had a good reason to be happy. This was a very important moment in our understanding of maths and physics.

The stories are hard to believe. But the important thing is that Archimedes and Newton really did exist, and they really did <sup>5</sup>come up with those important ideas. Newton worked out that if the Earth's gravity has an effect on the movement of an apple, then it probably has an effect on the movement of the moon, too – and all kinds of new ideas and discoveries <sup>6</sup>came from that.

And you might say that these discoveries were accidents, and in a way they were – but not complete accidents. They needed people like Newton and Archimedes to do the thinking. Scientists and mathematicians do a lot of thinking and because of that, our world is the way it is.

TRAIN TO THINK

Thinking about fact and fiction

Sometimes we explain scientific facts through anecdotes (short, often amusing stories about something that happened). Facts are always true, while fiction is pure imagination.

Read the text again and find the following:

- 1 sentences which say the story is not true
- 2 rhetorical questions
- 3 ways to address the reader directly.

SPEAKING

Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 Do you know any other discoveries that were made by accident? What is their story?
- 2 Name a scientist that you admire. Why do you think his/her work can help people?

GRAMMAR

Phrasal verbs

1 Look at the underlined phrasal verbs in the blog on page 35. Match them with the definitions. Then complete the rules.

- 1 move down to a lower level or place
- 2 move upwards, rise
- 3 drop from a place where it was attached or contained
- 4 think of an idea or plan
- 5 happen as the result of doing something
- 6 fall to the ground

RULE:

- Phrasal verbs usually have two parts: a main <sup>1</sup>... and a <sup>2</sup>.... Phrasal verbs that include a preposition are known as prepositional verbs. They have three parts: a verb, a particle and a preposition.
- The most common particles used to form phrasal verbs are around, at, away, down, in, off, on, out, over, round, up. Together, they have a particular meaning which is often quite <sup>3</sup>similar / different from the meaning of the verb alone.

2 Underline the phrasal verbs in the sentences.

- 1 I can't come tonight – I have to look after my little brother at home.
- 2 Do you know what time the plane takes off tomorrow?
- 3 I had fun last night – my friends came round and we watched a film.
- 4 She likes to hang out with her friends at the shopping centre.
- 5 I started learning Russian, but it was very difficult, so I gave it up after six months.

3 Complete the sentences with phrasal verbs from Exercises 1 and 2. Use the correct form of the verbs.

- 1 Newton was sitting under an apple tree when an apple _____ of the tree and _____ the ground.
- 2 While Archimedes was getting out of the bath, he saw that the water _____.
- 3 When we go on holiday, my friend _____ my pet rabbit.

3 Which way(s) can these things move?

- |           |                    |

How science helps people

1 Think about what science has given us. Make notes.

- Name four things that science has given us.
- Do you know who invented them?
- How do these things help us every day?

2 Write a short paragraph then read it out to the class. Vote for the best short presentation.

READING

- 1 SPEAKING Think of something that doesn't exist yet but that you would like to have or to see. Compare your ideas with a partner.

I'd like to have a motorbike that can also fly.

I'd like to see a machine that can take you anywhere in the world in seconds.

- 2 A web forum asked readers to do the same task as Exercise 1. Look at the pictures. What things do you think the forum readers suggested?
- 3 Read the forum. Check your answers to Exercise 2.
- 4 Read the forum again. Then write the names of the people described in these statements.
- 0 This person thinks about our planet. Charlie
  - 1 This person might be a bit lazy. _____
  - 2 This person worries about sick people. _____
  - 3 This person wants more time. _____
  - 4 This person wants to go back in time. _____

TRAIN TO THINK

Using criteria

Before you start brainstorming ideas about a certain topic, create a list of criteria. These can be any type of requirements that are important in choosing your best arguments.

- 1 Here are the five ideas from the forum. Put them in order 1–5: 1 = the most useful, 5 = the least useful.

- a a fuel that doesn't pollute
- b a time machine
- c a cure for malaria
- d a machine to do homework
- e a pill to sleep less

- 2 SPEAKING Compare your ideas with a partner.
- 3 You put the five things in order following a criterion – how useful is the idea? Here are two more criteria. Can you think of others?
- How possible is it?
  - How important is it?
  - How _____ is it?
  - How _____ is it?
- 4 Choose one of the criteria in Exercise 3 and order the things in Exercise 1 again. Then compare your ideas with other students.

We asked you, our readers:
'What scientific advance or discovery would you like to see in the near future?'
Here are some of your answers.

- 1 It would be great if there was some kind of petrol we could use in cars that didn't produce any pollution. I guess there are scientists right now trying to do that, and I hope they succeed, because the world would be a much cleaner place, wouldn't it? Charlie
- 2 If I could choose anything, I'd go for a time machine so that I could go back and do some things differently. Of course that's impossible – but wouldn't it be great if it was possible? I wish I could go back in time to when I was a kid and not say some of the things that I really did say! Hannah
- 3 Well, of course, the best things are cures for really bad diseases. Everyone thinks about cancer, and of course it's terrible, but a lot of scientists are also working very hard to stop malaria – another terrible disease that affects millions of people all over the world. So if they found a cure for malaria, or a way of completely preventing it, life would be easier in so many places. Bruna
- 4 I wish there was a machine that did homework! Wouldn't that be fantastic? But I guess teachers wouldn't be very happy. Georgina
- 5 I think it would be great if they invented a pill or something so that you only had to sleep for one or two hours every day. Then we'd all have much more time to do things and to enjoy ourselves. Life would be better, I think, and everyone would do a lot more with their lives. Morris

Second conditional

1 Complete these sentences with the phrases in the list. Are the sentences about real or imagined situations? Find more examples of the second conditional in the web forum and underline them.

- If I _____ choose anything, I _____ a time machine.
- _____ great if it _____ possible?

2 Now complete the rule.

RULE: We use the second conditional to talk about the consequences of an unreal present action or <sup>1</sup> a probable / an improbable future action.

- Condition clause: if + <sup>2</sup> _____ simple.
- Result clause: <sup>3</sup> _____ / wouldn't (would not) + verb.

The condition clause can come before or after the result clause.

3 Circle the correct words.

- If I had / would have a bit more time, I went / would go and see my friends tonight.
- They would learn / learned more if they would listen / listened more carefully.
- If my school would be / was a long way from home, I would have / had to take a bus.
- He lent / would lend you his tablet if you asked / would ask him nicely.
- If he was / would be really ill, he stay / would stay in bed.
- I gave / would give you her address if I knew / would know it myself.

4 Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs.

- I think it 'd be (be) a great party if the food was (be) better.
- Who _____ you _____ (talk) to if you _____ (have) a really serious problem?

- If his father _____ (not make) him tidy his room, he _____ (not do) it.
- If you _____ (can) have any present you want, what _____ you _____ (choose)?

I wish

5 Read the sentences. How are they alike?

- I wish I could go back to when I was a kid.
- I wish there was a machine that did homework.

6 Complete the sentences with the correct verb form.

- The bus isn't here. I wish the bus was here.
- We aren't a good team. I wish we _____ a better team.
- I can't go home. I wish I _____ go home.
- It's raining. I wish it _____ raining.
- They are making so much noise! I wish they _____ so much noise!

7 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Which person in the pictures is thinking which thing from Exercise 6? (More than one answer is possible.)

VOCABULARY

Great scientists

1 Galileo (Italy, 1564–1642)

Galileo – his full name was Galileo Galilei – is sometimes called ‘the father of modern science’. He was a scientist, mathematician and astronomer (someone who looks at the stars and planets). When he was alive, telescopes were still quite basic, and he made many improvements to them.

His best-known achievement was to show that the Earth moves around the sun, and not the sun around the Earth (although he was not the first man to have the idea).

2 Louis Pasteur (France, 1822–1895)

Louis Pasteur was one of the people who started the area of science that we now call microbiology. He did many things during his life, but he is remembered mostly because of the work that he did with milk. When milk is about two days old, it starts to get bacteria (very small things that carry disease), and this makes it dangerous to drink – people can get diseases. Pasteur developed a way to prevent this happening. The process is called ‘pasteurisation’.

3 Karl Landsteiner (Austria, 1868–1943)

Landsteiner worked in Vienna on many scientific things. Together with a man called Erwin Popper, he helped to identify the virus that causes a disease called polio.

But even more importantly, in 1901 he discovered the three main blood groups – A, B and O – and showed that it is possible to transfer blood from one person to another person. This led to the first ever blood transfusion in 1907, in New York.

4 Francis Crick (Britain, 1916–2004) and James Watson (USA, born 1928)

In 1953, in Cambridge, UK, Crick and Watson told the world that they had found ‘the secret of life’. The secret is the structure of DNA, the material that makes genes, the things we get from our parents that control how we grow. Their discovery meant that we now know much, much more about the human body. And with that knowledge, there have been enormous improvements in medicine and medical research, as well as in historical research and solving crimes.

5 Jane Goodall (Britain, born 1934)

Jane Goodall is a scientist who has studied primates, especially chimpanzees, her whole life. She has studied their family groups, their use of tools and their emotions. Her work has made it clear that chimpanzees and other primates (gorillas, for example) are not as different from people as we used to think. Goodall has shown the world that we need to treat the animals around us with respect and protect them.

3 Read the article again and write the names of the scientists.

Which scientist (or scientists) ...

- 1 ... is/are still alive?
- 2 ... worked with animals?
- 3 ... did work that helped medicine?
- 4 ... started a new science?
- 5 ... invented something to stop diseases?
- 6 ... improved a piece of equipment?
- 7 ... did work that helped historians and detectives?

4 SPEAKING Discuss the questions.

- a Which of the scientists do you think is the most important? Why? Share your ideas with the class.
- b There is only one woman here. Why do you think this is?

5 SPEAKING Match the words in bold in the article with their meanings. Write the words.

- 0 the way that the parts of something are organised structure
- 1 say who or what someone or something is _____
- 2 very, very big or important _____
- 3 simple, not complicated _____
- 4 something very good and difficult that you do _____
- 5 stop, not allow _____
- 6 to behave towards people or things in a certain way _____
- 7 things you use with your hands to do jobs _____

A world without science

[1] It isn't easy to imagine life without scientific progress. One area of science that has really benefited is medicine. We could not imagine our life today without things like penicillin, X-rays, vaccination, ambulances or antibiotics.

[2] I believe that the discovery of penicillin is one of the most important moments in the history of medical science. Since 1928, it has been saving lives, because it can be used against diseases and infections. Even if it was discovered by chance, penicillin was a gift for people's health. Sir Alexander Fleming, a Scottish researcher, found some mould on a dish in his lab and discovered that the mould stopped the spreading of other bacteria. In my opinion, our life wouldn't be the same without this medicine. For example, some forms of pneumonia could kill us if we didn't have a treatment based on penicillin.

[3] To sum up, I could say that science can save lives, because doctors would not be able to treat patients if they didn't have the right medicines. So, the work of scientists and researchers contributes not only to the development of science, but also to the protection of our health.

4 Look at the statements below about someone who likes birdwatching. Read and listen to the article and decide if each statement is correct or incorrect. If it is correct, mark it A. If it's incorrect, mark it B.

1 Phoebe Snetsinger learned about her illness after she came back from Alaska.

2 When she got the bad news, she took some time to recover and then started travelling.

3 After travelling for about ten years, she had won the fight against her illness forever.

4 Only 12 other people were as successful with their bird spotting as Phoebe.

5 Phoebe liked breaking records, but she didn't care a lot about the environment.

6 When Phoebe finally died of cancer, she was on holiday doing what she loved most.

7 Just before she went on her last trip, she published her famous book Birding on Borrowed Time.

8 The book is both about birdwatching and the heroic way Phoebe got on with her life.

5 SPEAKING With a partner, correct the statements marked B.

8,000 Birds to See Before You Die

Phoebe Snetsinger had just returned from a trip to Alaska when her doctors told her that she had cancer. She had less than a year to live. Phoebe was 50. As soon as she heard the news, she decided to spend the rest of her life doing what she loved most – watching birds.

She immediately went off to some of the world's most amazing natural paradises. Her trips were extremely hard. But Phoebe surprised her doctors and her family as she carried on travelling. A year came and went, and she was still alive. She was doing something that she loved and that helped her to be healthy for another ten years.

The cancer came back, but even then Phoebe Snetsinger decided not to stop. As she continued with her trips, the cancer went away again. By now she was becoming internationally famous in the birdwatching world. At the age of 61, when she had seen 7,530 species, she was named 'the world's leading bird spotter' by the Guinness Book of Records.

Four years later, during a trip to Mexico, she set a new record when she spotted species number 8,000: the very rare Rufous-necked Wood-Rail. Snetsinger had become a legend. Nobody had spotted so many different bird species before. In fact, at that time only 12 people around the world had seen more than 7,000 species of birds!

Phoebe's interest in birdwatching started in Minneapolis. Then she moved to Missouri with her family. There, she joined a group of people who were interested in birds, insects and plants around the Mississippi River. She became very worried about pollution and its impact on the environment. 'We have to protect nature,' she said. 'If we don't, future generations won't be able to enjoy watching these beautiful birds.'

Sadly, when Phoebe was 68, she died in a car accident on the island of Madagascar off the East African coast. She was there enjoying the hobby that had probably saved her life. She had been there for two weeks, and had added another five to her list of over 8,400 species. Four years after she died, the American Birding Association published her memoirs, Birding on Borrowed Time. Many people have enjoyed reading this moving book. It isn't just a story about a bird spotter's travels, but a touching human document of how her hobby helped her to live much longer than expected.

TRAIN TO THINK

GRAMMAR

Past perfect simple (review)

- 1 Read the example sentences and answer the questions. Then circle the correct word to complete the rule.

Phoebe Snetsinger had just returned from a trip to Alaska when her doctors told her that she had cancer.

- Which of the two actions came first: her returning from a trip or what the doctors told her?
Four years later she set a new record. Nobody had spotted so many different bird species.
- Which action came first?

RULE: When we tell a story, we often use the past perfect to talk about one event that happened before another event in the past.

She died in a car accident on Madagascar. She had been there for two weeks.

(She was there for two weeks before she died.)

When we speak about a sequence of past events, we put them in chronological order using the past simple. If we want to refer to an event which happened <sup>1</sup>before / after the last event in the sequence, we use the past perfect.

- 2 Complete the sentences. Use the past perfect form of the verbs.

- When I tried to phone them, nobody answered. They _____ all _____ (go) swimming.
- He _____ (change) so much that I almost didn't know who he was when I saw him last night.
- She couldn't phone me because she _____ (lose) her mobile.
- Somebody _____ (steal) John's car, so he was very angry.
- Claire had no idea I was coming to see her. Her mum _____ (forget) to tell her.
- You arrived too late. They _____ already _____ (leave).
- Her mother _____ (not give) her any money, so she couldn't buy the tickets.
- _____ they already _____ (return) from their holiday when you got to their house?

- 3 Think about times in the past when you experienced a strong emotion. Then complete these sentences with your own words. Use the past perfect.

- I was really sad because ...
- I was absolutely delighted when I found out that ...
- I was angry when I was told that ...
- I was very tired after ...

VOCABULARY

Time linkers

- 1  Read the story. Complete it with the words in the list.

when | as soon as | then | until | while

When I was a child, I was never really very interested in nature. <sup>1</sup>_____ one day my aunt gave me a book for my birthday. It was called Birding on Borrowed Time by a woman called Phoebe Snetsinger. <sup>2</sup>_____ she gave it to me I was a little disappointed. It didn't seem very interesting, and I wanted a new game for my phone. My aunt made me promise to read it. So I did, and I loved it. It was so interesting. <sup>3</sup>_____ I was reading the book, I completely forgot about time. In fact, I didn't do anything else. <sup>4</sup>_____ I'd finished it – no TV, no gaming, nothing. <sup>5</sup>_____ I had finished the book, I went out and bought myself a pair of binoculars. And that's how my interest in birdwatching started.

- 2 Match the parts of the sentence.

LISTENING

1 Listen to 14-year-old Sam giving a talk at school. Which of these is she talking about?

- 1 Four things we all know about regular exercise.
- 2 Four things we might not know about regular exercise.
- 3 The advantages and disadvantages of regular exercise.

2 Listen again. A student in Sam's class is taking notes, but she hasn't managed to write everything down. Complete her notes.

Sam's talk:

What everybody knows: exercise is good for:

- strengthening muscles
- controlling <sup>1</sup>

4 things not everyone might know about exercise:

1. helps with mental health reason: there's a link between lack of <sup>2</sup> and depression.
2. strengthens your immune <sup>3</sup>
<sup>4</sup> helps you fight colds and other
3. is good for your <sup>5</sup>
4. reduces the risk of dying from a <sup>6</sup> attack.

3 SPEAKING Compare your notes with a partner's. Which of the points from Sam's talk did you already know? Which were new for you?

SELF-ESTEEM

About health

1 Complete the sentences from Sam's talk with therefore and you should. Then decide in which of the sentences the speaker makes a suggestion and in which the speaker draws a conclusion?

- a Exercise gives you a healthy heart, so _____ exercise regularly. You reduce the risk of dying from a heart attack by almost a half.
- b There is a clear link between lack of movement and depression. _____ regular exercise helps you to become a happy person.

LOOK! A conclusion is only valid if it follows logically from the information given. If we need to make assumptions about facts that are not part of the information, then the conclusion is invalid.

2 SPEAKING Which of these conclusions are valid? Which are invalid? Give reasons.

A Most kinds of sports are good for your health. Car racing is a sport. Therefore, car racing is good for your health.
valid  invalid

B Spending time outdoors in the fresh air is good for your health. Birdwatching is done outdoors in the fresh air. Therefore, birdwatching is a healthy free-time activity.
valid  invalid

C Vitamins are good for the immune system. Fruit has got vitamins in it. Therefore, eating fruit is good for the immune system.
valid  invalid

D Positive thinking can be good for your health. John is a positive thinker. John will never fall ill.
valid  invalid

The conclusion in A is invalid. It's true that most kinds of sports are good for your health. It's also true that car racing is a sport. But it's not true that all sports are good for your health. The first sentence talks about most kinds of sports, not all sports.

READING

- 1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Student A reads story A; student B reads story B. Tell your partner about the story you have read.

Miracle operations

A

Jack McNaughton's parents were so happy yesterday when their 4-year-old son walked through the gates of his school in Almondbank near Perth, Scotland, together with his friends.

Jack had been suffering from a serious illness since he was born and was not able to walk. A few months ago, his parents heard about a new miracle operation that doctors in a clinic in the US can perform. With help from friends and the local community, Jack's parents managed to get together the $40,000 for the operation. A team of doctors from a special clinic in Missouri operated on the young boy. After an operation of several hours the doctors said: 'We're optimistic that your son will be able to walk!' For his parents, a dream had come true. They had been waiting for this moment for years.

They are now hoping that Jack will never need to use a wheelchair again.

B

Doctors at the Emergency Clinic in Linz, Austria, were cautiously optimistic last night after they had operated on a boy's foot for ten hours. The boy, Jan S., had lost his foot in a skiing accident, but doctors attached the boy's foot back onto his ankle. Dr Huber and Dr Thewanger, the operating doctors, told the boy's parents there was great hope that he would be able to walk and lead a normal life again.

The 9-year-old had been taking part in a skiing race. He had been skiing on his own during the break and had not stayed with the other children. He went down a very steep slope, suddenly lost control and hit a tree. His foot was completely cut off below the ankle. Some people who had seen the accident gave first aid, and a helicopter took the boy to hospital. A few teenagers were so shocked by what they had seen that they had to get medical treatment as well.

- 2 Read both stories. Mark the sentences A (story A) or B (story B).

- 1 He had suffered for a very long time.
- 2 People who saw what happened were really shocked.
- 3 His parents had been waiting for this moment all the boy's life.
- 4 His parents worked hard to get the money for the operation together.
- 5 His parents heard that there was hope he would be able to do sport again.
- 6 He was doing sport and had an accident.

- to talk about things that have stopped and had a result in the <sup>2</sup>present / past.

  - an action continuing up to a moment in the past; its effects/results are shown
  - an action in progress at a moment in the past, interrupted by another action
  - an action in progress at a time in the past

RULE: If we are / are not interested in how long an activity went on, we can use the past continuous instead of the past perfect continuous.

The challenge

- 1 Look at the photos. The four friends have issued each other a challenge involving their phones. What could it be?
- 2  Now read and listen to the photostory. Check your ideas.

EMMA It's been such a busy week.
LIAM Too right. So many things to do.
NICOLE Same here. And all of these projects for school. It's been fun, though. Hasn't it, Justin?
JUSTIN Sorry?
EMMA Oh, come on, Justin. You're not listening to us at all.
NICOLE Always on your phone doing something or other.
JUSTIN Sorry. I know it's a bad habit, but whenever someone texts me I've just got to reply right away.
NICOLE Seems like we're not important to you any more. You're constantly on the phone. Oh, sorry. Oh, hi, Julia. Yeah ... sure I'm going ... yes, we're all going ... No idea ... Hang on a sec. Let me ask ... Guys? When's the Chilly Balloons concert? Is it next week?
JUSTIN On the 7th, nine o'clock.
NICOLE Julia? On the 7th at nine o'clock ... I'll be at home, I guess. Sure ... OK. Well, I have to be off now, but give me a shout over the weekend when you have time. OK, bye! ... Right. Where were we?
JUSTIN Seems like we're not important to you any more. You're constantly on the phone.
NICOLE Hang on - it was Julia and it was important. I was only helping her.
EMMA Did you hear that the cheapest tickets to the concert are £42?
LIAM What? That can't be right. Let me check. Here we are. Chilly Balloons ... Saturday 7th ... tickets from £25.00 to £100.00.
EMMA Oh, that doesn't sound too bad. Thanks, Liam.
NICOLE You know what? We're telling Justin off for being on his phone too much, but we're all just as bad.
JUSTIN Ha! True! Hey, I challenge us all not to use our phones for the whole weekend. Not once. I bet you can't.
NICOLE Ridiculous. Of course we can. Why wouldn't we be able to?
EMMA Oh, come on. Three days without a phone? No problem!
JUSTIN OK. Let's try it, shall we? You'll never survive the weekend without your phones. You'll see. Anyone who uses their phone has to treat the others to coffee or whatever they want at the café. OK?
EMMA OK. I'm in.
JUSTIN No phones, right up to Monday morning, starting now. Deal?
OTHERS Deal!

TRAIN TO THINK

Thinking about the importance of rules

Sometimes teenagers find it difficult to accept strict rules in the relationship with their parents. Read the text again and compare the rules of today with the ones in ancient Greece.

Answer the questions:

- 1 Were the rules different for boys and girls in ancient Greece? Are there any different rules for girls nowadays?
- 2 What did the Aztecs learn in the home? What do you think about homeschooling today? How do you think learning at home would change rules in your family?
- 3 Name some of the rules that you think are necessary for a happy family life.

Hard times to be a kid

'I'm not allowed to stay out late.'

'Why do I have to do my homework before I can watch TV?'

'My parents never let me go to parties.'

Do these complaints sound familiar? They are made by teenagers all around the world! If you think your life is hard, you might like to think about kids in ancient times. For some of them, life was really hard.

If you were born in ancient Greece, you weren't even thought to be a real person until you'd been alive for five days. That's right – for five days after you were born, your parents were allowed to get rid of you. If they decided they didn't want you, they'd just leave you outside somewhere to die. However, if your parents decided that they wanted you as part of the family, you were welcomed with a special ceremony.

Only the boys were allowed to go to school. Greek girls stayed at home, where their mothers taught them skills like cooking and weaving – things that would help them find a husband.

At the age of seven, some boys were sent away to very strict military schools, where they were taught how to become soldiers. The teachers didn't let them have much food – for a reason. They wanted the boys to learn how to survive for themselves by stealing food. But if they got caught, they were punished.

Aztec children in Central America also had a difficult life in ancient times. If they broke rules, they could expect some pretty nasty punishments.

On the good side, Aztecs really believed in the importance of schooling. In the home, children learned practical skills: dads taught their sons how to fish and farm while mothers taught their daughters home-making skills. Girls and boys also went to school, but to separate schools.

Kids went to schools called telpochcalli. They had lessons about history, religion and music. The boys also had lessons in how to fight. If the children were from a more important family, they went to a calmecac where they learned how to read and write, too.

At both schools children had to be on their best behaviour. They knew all about the punishments for behaving badly, and life was hard enough anyway.

SPEAKING

Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 Think of more rules (at least one each) for the four areas: personal, family, school, society. Make notes and compare them to a partner's.
- 2 What is the punishment for breaking your rules?

READING

1 Read the results of a contest carried out by a fiction writing website. Match the pictures with the stories.

Small is beautiful. So every week we invite our readers to send us their (very) short stories. Each story must be exactly 50 words, not a word more, not a word less – just like this introduction. (Words like ‘didn’t’ count as one word.) And then we publish all our favourites!

Here are the best from last week’s theme: Breaking the Rules

1 The sign clearly said ‘Don’t feed the seagulls’. Maybe if the seagull had been able to read, it wouldn’t have flown down and stolen my sandwich. Unfortunately, it couldn’t read. It flew down and it stole my lunch. And that’s why I’m still hungry. Can I have a cheese sandwich, please? Please?

2 ‘If we had run, we wouldn’t have missed the train,’ she said angrily.

‘I don’t like following your orders,’ he replied, as the 10 pm train was leaving the station. ‘We’ll get the next train.’

‘That’s no problem,’ said the guard standing nearby. ‘It leaves at eight o’clock tomorrow morning. Good night.’

3 ‘Never, ever go into the abandoned old house at the end of the road.’ That’s what all the parents told their children. One day Jack decided to find out what the mystery was all about and went into the house. Now there’s a new mystery in town: what exactly happened to Jack?

4 The big sign at the park gates said: ‘No ball games. No cycling. No skateboarding. No picnics.’ We stood and looked at it for a long time. ‘Let’s go in anyway,’ I said. My friend replied: ‘No way! No fun!’ I smiled. ‘No problem!’ I said, and then took down the sign.

5 If I had listened to my mother, I wouldn’t have got into trouble. ‘Always tell the truth,’ she said. So when Miss Green asked me why I was yawning, I told her the truth – I thought the lesson was really, really boring. Now I’ve got to explain all this to the headmaster.

2 Match the stories (1–5) to the titles. Write the numbers. There is one title you won’t need.

- a Where can we play?
- b A long wait
- c A question with no answer
- d A game with no rules
- e Birds don't read
- f Trouble at school

3 Each of the stories actually has 52 words. Find two words that you can take out in each one. (There are always more than two possibilities!)

4 Which of the stories are these people talking about? Do you agree with them?

- a ‘Sometimes it’s a good idea not to tell the truth.’
- b ‘I would never go into a place like that.’
- c ‘It’s his own fault that he had to wait.’
- d ‘We need to find a way to keep birds away from people.’
- e ‘It’s crazy for public places to have so many rules.’

5 WRITING Choose one of the rules below and use it as a topic for your own 50-word short story.

- No running in the school corridors.
- Please pay for your food before you eat it.
- No swimming in the lake.
- If you’re the last person to leave the room, please turn off the lights.
- No talking during the examination.
- Please don’t come in unless you are properly dressed.

RULE: To talk about unreal situations in the past and their imagined results, we use the third conditional.

- Result clause: would (not) have + <sup>2</sup> _____ participle.

The condition clause can come before or after the result clause.

c we would have bought him a present.
d the test would have been a lot easier for me.
e if we had spent it all on food.
f she wouldn't have had time for breakfast.

THE GREAT ESCAPE

After many tragedies, there are always stories of people who have shown an amazing ability to survive. Here are two stories which remind us that miracles can happen.

On 5 August, 2010, the San José copper and gold mine in the Atacama Desert in Chile collapsed and 33 miners were trapped underground. The mine had a poor safety record, and there were fears that the missing men wouldn't come out alive. A rescue team immediately began drilling into the ground where it was thought the men might be. On Day 17, when the drill was brought out of the ground, there was a note taped to it. In bright red letters it read: 'We are alive and well in the shelter, all 33 of us.' It was the news the whole country had been waiting for and the Chilean government promised to bring them out alive. For the next seven weeks, rescue teams from all over the world worked together to drill a hole big enough to bring out the men, who were waiting 700 metres below the ground. It was a long, difficult and dangerous job, but on 13 October, more than a billion people around the world watched live on TV as the first of the miners was finally brought above ground. Twenty-four hours later, the last miner, number 33, was reunited with his family and friends.

In June 2013, a rescue diver was swimming through the wreck of the tugboat Jascon-4 when he got an enormous shock: a hand reached out and grabbed his leg. The ship had sunk two and a half days earlier and was now lying 30 metres below the surface of the water. The diver, who was part of a team looking for the bodies of the 13 crew members, hadn't expected to find anyone alive. But one man had managed to survive. Twenty-nine-year-old Harrison Okene from Nigeria was the ship's cook. When the ship got into trouble in rough seas and started turning over, Okene found an air pocket and put his head in it. As the ship sank towards the sea floor, he expected the pocket to fill with water, but it didn't. That explains why he didn't die immediately. Despite the freezing water and having nothing to eat or drink, Okene had enough air to breathe. There was nothing he could do except wait. Sixty hours after the ship went down, Okene heard knocking and knew that rescue teams had entered the ship. He still wasn't safe, and a complicated plan was needed to bring him slowly to the surface. Unfortunately, none of the other crew members survived. But for one man, the tragedy had ended with a miracle.

- 3 Read the article again. What do these numbers refer to?

0 7 The number of weeks the miners were trapped underground.

1 13                      3 29                      5 33
2 17                      4 30                      6 60

- 4 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 What do you think these people did while they were waiting to be rescued?
- 2 These people had accidents at work. Do you think people should be rescued when they are doing dangerous things for pleasure, for example, climbing mountains? Why? / Why not?

5 VOCABULARY There are seven highlighted words or phrases in the article. Match them with these definitions.

- 4 a terrible event that often kills many people
- 5 an amazing event that almost seems impossible
- 6 an instrument that makes a hole in the ground

- b gives people's reactions to the accident?
- c gives a summary of the whole event?
- d describes how the accident was dealt with?

4 Think of a rescue that you know about or invent one. Write a story (about 120 words). Think about:

- who was involved in the accident and the rescue.
- any special words that you will need to talk about the accident. (Use a dictionary to help you.)
- how to organise the information into paragraphs.
- how to make the story dramatic.

- 1 In March 2014, 14-year-old Za'Quan Clyburn from North Carolina, USA, was rescued <sup>1</sup>_____ he got trapped in mud.
- 2 Za'Quan was walking home with some friends. To save time, they walked across some open land <sup>2</sup>_____ was being prepared for building. Za'Quan walked down a hill towards a large pool of water. He thought the ground was solid <sup>3</sup>_____ that he could walk across it, but it was mud. He sank into it and couldn't get out. The mud went up to his chest and then almost to his chin.
- 3 One of his friends called 911. Fire fighters arrived and started to work to get Za'Quan out. It took 24 people about half an hour to free him. Za'Quan was extremely cold and in shock, and his legs were very painful <sup>4</sup>_____ of the pressure of the mud. An ambulance took him to hospital, <sup>5</sup>_____ he was kept for two days.
- 4 One of the fire fighters said, 'The outcome could have been much worse, <sup>6</sup>_____ fortunately he came through it OK.' The boy's mother said <sup>7</sup>_____ that she was really grateful to the people who had worked so hard and risked their lives to save her son.

B find out what you're thinking.

3 Paragraphs 4 and 5 don't contain any rhetorical questions. Think of a rhetorical question that you could add to each paragraph.

Everybody loves stories – but why?

What's the first image that comes to mind when you hear the word 'storytelling'? A parent who's reading a fairy tale to their little child – that's what most of us think of immediately. But there's more to stories, of course. What about our favourite movies, the thriller we're reading right now, and that friend who's so brilliant at telling jokes and anecdotes that everyone loves listening to? The movies, the thrillers, the anecdotes and the jokes: they all have something in common with fairy tales. They're all based on the same activity, which is one of the most exciting things humans can do: telling stories!

But why do we tell stories? Just for fun? Well, here's a story for you. Imagine the world hundreds of thousands of years ago. A group of Neanderthals are sitting around the fire in a cave, where they've just finished eating a big meal together. One of them has an idea. He wants to get some berries, which he wants to share with everybody.

His friend decides to join him. Off they go, out of the cave, down to the place where the best berries grow. Well, they don't come back for a long while, and finally, the only one of them to return is the friend, who's covered in blood and has a sad story to share. He tells the others that as soon as they went round the bend, not far from the cave, a sabre-toothed tiger attacked them and killed his friend. The others are shocked, of course, but they're also warned.

Are you getting the idea? Stories aren't just about entertainment. Good stories engage us emotionally, and they do that by giving us something to think about. They contain messages which might be useful for us in the future, like the Neanderthal man's story, which certainly wasn't intended to entertain his friends!

We admire people whose magical storytelling skills capture our attention and our imagination. Everybody has always respected storytellers, who have been important members of many societies. In the past, storytellers often travelled a lot. When they went to places far away, their stories travelled with them. When they returned home, they had new stories to share. People were eager to listen, which was fun but also gave them a chance to learn about those remote places.

In cultures all over the world, important stories have been passed down from generation to generation. These stories come from previous generations, whose wisdom and knowledge they contain. They're often about disasters, dramatic events such as fires, storms, thunder, lightning and floods. Every country and culture has its own stories. Our stories have become part of our tradition. Our stories reflect who we are.

READING

- 1 Look at the photos. Do you recognise these fairy tales? Do you know their names in English?
- 2 Read the article quickly. Who are the Brothers Grimm?

Hollywood fairy tales

Little Red Riding Hood used to be just a story that parents would read to their children at bedtime, but not any more. Now Red Riding Hood is a Hollywood blockbuster directed by Catherine Hardwicke. Hardwicke directed Twilight, which made her the obvious choice for another film so clearly aimed at the teenage market.

Red Riding Hood isn't the only film to go back to the classic fairy tales and update them for today's teenagers. Hansel and Gretel: Witch Hunters, Jack the Giant Slayer and Snow White and the Huntsman are also hoping they can persuade young people to revisit the stories of their childhood. And then there's Brothers Grimm, starring Matt Damon and Heath Ledger, which sees the original authors of many of these fairy tales come face to face with some of their characters. Hollywood, it seems, has realised that fairy tales have the potential to make money, and lots of it.

Teenagers are one of Hollywood's most important markets and after the success of series like Harry Potter, Twilight and The Hunger Games, film studios are looking for more inspiration for stories to keep young people returning to the cinema. Fairy tales might just be the answer. Many are already quite dark, which makes them ideal for adolescents, who are often fascinated by that side of life. Of course, you might not recognise much of the original story, as extra horror, and romance for the heroes and heroines, have been added to the plots. But with modern-day special effects to bring it all to life, does it really matter?

3 Read the article again and connect the sentences.

- |                                       |                                  |                                   |

Writer's block

1 Look at the photos and answer the questions.

- 1 Look at what the teacher has written on the board. What do you think the homework is?
- 2 How does Emma feel about the homework?
- 3 Do you think Justin is being helpful?

2 Now read and listen to the photostory. Check your ideas.

TEACHER OK, everyone, so this is what I want you to do by Friday, OK? A short story, of five hundred words.

EMMA Five hundred words!? She can't be serious!

TEACHER ... and the story has to end with the words, 'Thanks, you saved my life!'

EMMA What? This is awful. I can't do that. I'm hopeless at writing stories.

TEACHER It has to be original, though. No using old stories and changing them a bit here and there. I want something that's yours and yours alone. Be creative! OK, end of lesson. Bye!

EMMA And she wants it by Friday! That's the day after tomorrow. I'll never come up with anything by then. An original story? Me? No chance.

LIAM Sounds like you've given up without even trying.

NICOLE Liam's right, Emma. I mean, come on, it can't be that hard, can it?

EMMA An original story, five hundred words long? I think that's pretty hard.

JUSTIN What's the ending again?

EMMA Someone says, 'Thanks, you saved my life!'

JUSTIN OK, that's five words. So far, so good. All you need is another four hundred and ninety-five.

EMMA You know, Justin, I may not be very good at creative writing but I can think of a few words for you right now!

NICOLE OK, calm down.

JUSTIN Well, I'm sorry, Emma. But you know, all you've got to do is think of a story you've read or a film you've seen ...

EMMA No, no, that's just it - it has to be original.

LIAM Well, there must be some stories she's never read.

EMMA You don't know Miss Jenkins. She's read every book, seen every film ...

JUSTIN Why don't you write a story about a girl who's got to write a story, and her friends give her a great idea and then she says 'Thanks, you saved my life!' The hero could be a really cool guy called Justin.

NICOLE Give it a rest, Justin!

EMMA OK, well this isn't getting me anywhere. And I've got to go home. I'm off - I'll see you lot later. And thanks for all the help, Justin! You're a real pal - not.

JUSTIN Hey, what did I do?

LIAM Well, you were a bit out of order, Justin. You can see that Emma's stressed out already, and you didn't exactly help, did you?

Thief feels sorry

When teacher Margaret Atkins, 49, went to ride her bike to school last Friday, she was shocked to discover it wasn't there. When our reporter spoke to her, she told him that she'd been really angry when she realised the bike was gone. She said a friend had given it to her years ago and that it was quite an old bike, but that she'd always liked it.

So what did she do? She decided to write a note to the thief and put it on the tree next to the bike stand that it had been stolen from. To her surprise, when she came back from school the same day, she found the thief had returned the bike, together with a written apology. 'I'm sorry I stole your bike. What I did was wrong. I've replaced the lock as I'd broken it. Hope you can accept my apology!'

The next morning, Mrs Atkins told reporters that she was still feeling surprised at what had happened. She said that although most people would be angry in her situation, she was just grateful that she could go to school on her bike again. Mrs Atkins added that she'd probably write another message to the thief. 'I want to thank him for returning the bike and tell him I've forgiven him,' she explained. She said that she wasn't going to report the incident to the police because she believed everyone could do bad things sometimes. 'What counts is that people own up to their mistakes,' she said.

Father angry victim of online con

Frank Caron, 29, will think twice before using his credit card online again. Caron spent £450 on what he thought was the popular Xbox One console, a birthday present for his twins Mia and Michael, seven. When he found out that he'd been tricked, he was the 'maddest man in town', as he told our reporter.

Mr Caron said that the family's financial situation was difficult, as most of their money went to pay the mortgage on their house. But he added that the twins had desperately wanted the games console and he and his wife had been proud to get them the toy they wanted. He said they'd seen the console on a well-known shopping auction website months ago and had thought it was a bargain. He started saving up for it immediately, and hoped nobody else would buy it before he had the money. He said he'd been absolutely furious when he opened the box and all he found inside was a low-resolution photo of the games console he'd wanted to buy.

When Mr Caron went online to understand how he'd been tricked, he realised he'd been the victim of an online *scam, a modern-day con. He said that he'd felt furious when he re-read the seller's advertisement: 'Xbox One console, top model photo, brand new'.

*scam – an illegal way of making money, usually by tricking people

READING

1 Read the article quickly. Which two ideas to help prevent crime does it mention?

GETTING CREATIVE with crime

An experiment carried out at Newcastle University aimed at reducing the number of bike thefts has produced some remarkable results. The most efficient way of stopping people from stealing bikes seems almost too simple to be true. If you want to persuade thieves not to act, make them feel they're being watched!

Posters showing a large pair of eyes were put up near three bike racks at the university, while other bike racks had no posters. The researchers explained that the number of thefts decreased by 62 per cent compared to the previous year at racks with posters. However, at the other racks, thefts actually increased by 63 per cent. Experts claim that clearly visible images of eyes make people feel they're being watched. They say that we all care what other people think about us and that's why we behave better when we think someone is looking. Now officials have agreed to carry out similar projects at train stations all over the country.

The 'giant eyes' poster isn't the only unusual method being used to try and fight crime on UK streets. In the East Midlands city of Leicester, police are inviting people to make large woolly balls and hang them up in trees around the area. They hope that these colourful additions to neighbourhoods will help create a safer place to live. The thinking behind the idea is that if you create a pleasant environment, people are more likely to behave better. 'We live in a world where our every move is being watched by *CCTV cameras,' one of the organisers told us. 'The cameras are there to keep away possible criminals, but they come at a price, and many people don't like being watched 24 hours a day. We believe there's another way. We want to encourage people to take more pride in where they live.'

However, not all residents are happy – many refuse to believe it will make any difference. They're demanding that the police do more to reduce trouble in the area. One local resident told us, 'I recommend that the police stop wasting their time on mad schemes like this and do some real policing. We need to see more policemen walking around our streets, especially at night.'

* CCTV – abbreviation for closed-circuit television: a system that sends television signals to a limited number of screens, and is often used in shops and public places to prevent crime

2 Read the article again and mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- 1 The crime prevention scheme at Newcastle University used the latest technology.
- 2 After the posters were put up, there were fewer bike thefts from all the university bike racks.
- 3 There are plans to use the posters in other parts of the UK.
- 4 It's hoped that the woolly balls will make people care more about where they live.
- 5 CCTV cameras will be used to catch criminals interfering with the woolly balls.
- 6 The woolly ball scheme is popular with all residents.

- Give a description of the crime (what happened).
- Include what one witness said.

Culture

1 Scan the article and answer the questions.

- 1 What crime did each of these men commit?
- 2 What punishment did each of them get?

2 Watch the video to check your answers.

Famous criminals

What do these three men have in common? All are, or were, incredibly rich at some point in their lives. However, there's little to admire in their apparent success – they all got their money in deeply dishonest ways.

One of the most common ways of stealing money these days is to steal it from your company. It's called embezzlement and Dennis Kozlowski was very good at it! Kozlowski was a top manager at an American company named Tyco a few years ago. (Ironically, one of the company's most recognised brands is ADT Home Security.) Kozlowski and another senior manager decided to help themselves to the company's money. It was a lot of money, and Kozlowski wasn't afraid to spend it! He bought a house costing $19 million and an apartment in New York for $18 million. He even spent $2 million on a private concert from the singer Jimmy Buffet. Altogether, he managed to steal $600 million before someone noticed. He's now in prison and has a lot of time to think about his 'success.'

Ronald Biggs was involved in the Great Train Robbery of 1963. Early one morning, a gang of men stopped a train in the British countryside.

3 Answer the questions.

- 1 How did Dennis Kozlowski get his money?
- 2 How did he spend it?
- 3 How did Ronnie Biggs get his money?
- 4 How did he get caught?
- 5 How did Albert Gonzalez get his money?
- 6 What prison sentence did he get?

They hit the train driver over the head and drove the train towards a bridge. A lorry was waiting underneath, and they dropped 120 mailbags of money from the train into it. They then drove to a farm nearby and shared out the money. Biggs got £147,000, which was a fortune at the time. When the police later found the farm, Biggs's fingerprints were all over the place. He was caught and sent to prison, but escaped after fifteen months. Biggs avoided British justice for almost 40 years, living in Australia and then in Brazil. He returned to Britain in 2001 because of bad health and died in 2013.

American Albert Gonzalez, also called 'The Hacker', worked for the US Secret Service in the early 2000s, trying to catch cybercriminals. But he didn't stay on that side of the law for long, and soon formed his own gang of hackers. They planned to make millions, and they did. The gang hacked into the computer networks of huge retail stores. They managed to steal the details of 140 million credit cards, and sold them to criminal organisations in other countries. Gonzalez was sentenced to 20 years in prison, but his victims had lost millions of dollars.

The truth is out there

There are many unexplained mysteries in the world. How was the Great Pyramid at Giza built? How are crop circles made? Are there yetis in the Himalayas? Have we been visited by extraterrestrials? And is there a sea monster in the depths of Loch Ness? But other, less well known phenomena are equally mysterious. Here are our favourites.

1 The Nampa Doll

In July 1889, in Nampa, Idaho, USA, a man named M.A. Kurtz was drilling a well in the ground when he noticed the drill had brought up a strange small brown object from under the earth. When he looked more closely, he found it was a figure made from clay. Amazingly, it had come from almost 100 metres below the surface, suggesting that it was more than 300,000 years old. In other words, it appeared to be from a time before humans walked on the Earth. So how did it get there? Some people say it could be evidence of an ancient lost civilisation. Others are sure it must be extraterrestrial. Whatever the truth, it makes you wonder how much we really know about our past.

2 Teotihuacan

Over 2,000 years ago, Teotihuacan in central Mexico was one of the largest cities in the world. It is especially famous for its incredible Mesoamerican pyramids, although these days not much of it remains. However, scientists exploring the ruins were amazed to find large amounts of the mineral mica in the city walls. The nearest place where mica is found is thousands of kilometres away, in Brazil. Nowadays, mica is important in the production of energy. Did the inhabitants of Teotihuacan know this secret? And is that why they went to so much trouble to bring it all the way from South America?

3 The Suicide Dog Bridge

The Overtoun Bridge near Milton in Scotland is famous for a sad reason. Over the last 50 years, 50 dogs have died, all jumping from a similar point on the bridge. But what is the reason for this puzzling phenomenon? Most animal experts agree that the dogs can't be committing suicide because they don't have such complex feelings, although some people think the dogs might sense their owners' unhappiness and jump for them. Others think the bridge is haunted. Perhaps the best explanation is that the dogs can smell the nests of minks below and, in trying to catch these small animals, are jumping without thinking.

4 The Lolladoff Plate

The 12,000-year-old Lolladoff plate was found in Nepal. The story goes that just after the Second World War, a Polish professor was travelling through Northern India and bought the plate at a local market. He was told it was from a secret race of people called the Dzopa, who used it for religious ceremonies. The plate is marked with spiral lines, odd symbols and a grey figure – according to UFO fans, an alien being. In fact, the plate looks just like a flying saucer. Some people claim that it is proof that aliens have already walked on the Earth. Others say the plate can't be genuine and is a fake.

2 Write replies to the statements. Use should have or shouldn't have and suitable verbs. Then practise reading them out in pairs.

Lost

Back in 1937, Amelia Earhart was one of the most famous women in the world. She was an author, a fashion designer and a magazine editor, but most of all, she was a pioneering pilot. Five years earlier, at the age of 34, she'd become the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic Ocean. She also broke many aviation records for going faster and further than any other woman. Every time she landed her plane, she was met by huge crowds wanting to see her and congratulate her. The books that she wrote about her flights were all bestsellers.

That year, Amelia decided she wanted to go one step further. She wanted to go for the ultimate aviation prize and be the first woman to fly around the world. On 1 June, along with her navigator Fred Noonan, Amelia set off from Miami in her plane, a Lockheed Electra, on what would be her biggest – and final – adventure.

The journey was going well when, on 29 June, the pair landed in New Guinea. They'd flown 35,000 km, and they had 11,000 km over the Pacific to go. But on 2 July, while heading towards Howland Island, Amelia and Fred went missing. The next day the world awoke to the news that Amelia Earhart had disappeared into thin air.

Despite a huge search, no sign of the aircraft was ever found. Most people thought that Amelia and Fred must have run out of fuel and that the Electra had gone down in the Pacific Ocean. They couldn't have survived the crash, and they must have died. It seemed the most obvious explanation. But, over the years, other ideas have developed about just what might have happened to the plane.

One theory was that Amelia might have landed her plane on the tiny island of Nikumaroro, not far from Howland Island. In the hope of proving this theory, an expedition went to the island in 2007 to look for signs of the tragic flight. Bones were found that could have been human fingers, but scientists were unable to say for sure if they were. In 2012, another expedition used underwater photography. Images were taken of what could have been an aircraft, but again, investigators couldn't be certain.

Perhaps the most interesting theory is that Earhart disappeared on purpose so that she could spy on the Japanese for the American government. It goes without saying that both countries deny this. But then what else would they say?

FLORA What's with the helmet, Jeff?
JEFF It's my dad's. He does go-karting.
MIA Oh yeah, I remember now. You told us about that. He's pretty good, isn't he?
JEFF Oh yeah, he's really into it. He goes all the time now that he's got his own go-kart. Anyway, there's a problem with his helmet, so he asked me to take it to the shop.

LEO Who's that?

CHLOE Talk to you soon, I hope, Jeff. Bye, everyone!
JEFF Yeah, see you, Chloë.
FLORA Are you out of your mind? You aren't a go-karter, and just now you said you were. Why did you do that?
MIA Do you need to ask?
JEFF Well, she seemed really nice, you know, and she likes go-karting.
LEO Between you and me, I think Jeff has just dug himself into a big hole.

Refugees Bring New Life to a Village

Riace is a small village in Calabria, which is a very pretty region of Italy, but also quite a poor one. Riace once had a population of 3,000, but in the 1990s a shortage of jobs meant that many of the inhabitants, especially young people, left the village to find work in other places. The only school closed. There were no restaurants and very few shops. Many houses were empty. Riace was becoming a ghost town. But these days it's a different story, because of one man whose dreams have turned Riace into a village with a future.

One day in 1998, Domenico Lucano, a teacher from Riace, was driving near the sea when he saw a large group of people on the beach. They were refugees who had arrived by boat to escape problems in their countries. Lucano had an idea of how to help these people and how they, in turn, might possibly help him save his village. He decided to welcome them into the village and to give them food and accommodation in return for work. The refugees also had to learn Italian.

It was the beginning of a plan. Lucano created an organisation called Città Futura, or City of the Future. The idea was simple: Riace desperately needed more inhabitants and there were plenty of people in the world looking for a home. The village began to welcome refugees from Somalia, Afghanistan, Iraq, Lebanon and other places. Lucano used buildings which had been empty for years to house the new arrivals, and he created workshops for them to work in.

Riace is now home to between two and three hundred immigrants, who live happily alongside the locals. Most of the women make handicrafts to sell in local shops, while the men renovate empty houses to rent to tourists. But it is not only the refugees who have gained from Lucano's plans: Città Futura also has 13 local employees, which makes it the biggest employer in the village. And because of the arrival of more children, the school is open again. Lucano, who became mayor of Riace in 2004, has managed to create jobs and to stop the villagers moving away, while at the same time helping some of the poorest and most desperate people in the world.

Many politicians have visited Riace hoping that they can use Lucano's ideas in their own towns and cities. The German film director Wim Wenders also went there and was inspired to make a short documentary about the village called Il Volo (The Flight). Lucano himself was voted third in the 2010 'World Mayor' competition, and was praised for his courage and compassion.

Distinguishing fact from opinion

People often have disagreements because they confuse opinions with facts. A fact is something true for which there is usually proof. An opinion is a thought or belief and may not be true. When you want to know if what someone is saying is really true, it's important to ask the right questions to help you separate opinions from facts.

Read the two statements (A). What is the purpose of the question (B) that follows each of them?

- A Teenagers never want to travel anywhere with their parents.

B Does that mean that there has never been a young person who liked travelling with their parents?
- A I'm convinced listening to music keeps you healthy.

B What evidence is there that proves you are right?

SPEAKING

Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- What two questions would you like to ask:

  - a resident born in Riace?
  - an immigrant living and working in Riace?
- Do you think things will continue to go well in Riace in the future? Why? / Why not?

GRAMMAR

Relative clauses (review)

1 Read the sentences from the article about Riace. Look at the underlined parts. Then complete the rule by writing A, B, C or D.

- A Riace is in Calabria, which is a very pretty region of Italy.
- B Lucano used buildings which had been empty for years to house the new arrivals.
- C They were refugees who had arrived by boat.
- D Lucano, who became mayor of Riace in 2004, has managed to create jobs.

RULE: We use a defining relative clause to identify an object (which / that), a person (who / that), a place (where) or a possession (whose). Without this information, it's hard to know who or what we're talking about. (e.g. Sentences <sup>1</sup>_____ and <sup>2</sup>_____)

We use a non-defining relative clause to add extra information. We don't need this information to understand the sentence. We put commas around it. (e.g. Sentences <sup>3</sup>_____ and <sup>4</sup>_____)

2 SPEAKING Complete each sentence with who, which or that. Are they defining or non-defining relative clauses? Then discuss the statements with a partner.

- 1 I don't understand people _____ decide to go and live in another country.
- 2 Sometimes people don't like strangers _____ come and live in their town.
- 3 A stranger is just someone _____ isn't your friend yet.
- 4 Sometimes it's just a person's appearance _____ makes us like them or not.

3 Join the sentences to make one sentence by including a non-defining relative clause. Put commas in the correct places.

- 0 The people were tired. They had come a long way.
The people, who had come a long way, were tired.
- 1 The locals gave them food. The locals were kind.
- 2 Rome is an exciting place. It is my favourite city.
- 3 I've been reading a book by William Boyd. Boyd is one of my favourite writers.
- 4 My neighbour Rubens has been living here for ten years. Rubens is from Guatemala.

which to refer to a whole clause

4 Read the two sentences from the article. What does which refer to in each sentence?

- 1 Riace is a small village in Calabria, which is a very pretty region of Italy.
- 2 Città Futura has 13 local employees, which makes it the biggest employer in the village.

5 What does this refer to in each of the second sentences below? Rewrite the pairs of sentences as one sentence.

- 0 A lot of tourists visit. This is good for the town.
A lot of tourists visit, which is good for the town.
- 1 Some people go and live in another country. This is not always easy.
- 2 You have to learn new customs. This can be challenging.
- 3 Some people are nervous about strangers. This makes life difficult for new arrivals.
- 4 Sometimes there are differences in culture. This often results in misunderstandings.

VOCABULARY

Groups of people

 Complete each sentence with a word from the list.

the audience | motorists | pedestrians
residents | the crew | the staff | employees employers | immigrants | politicians
refugees | inhabitants

- 0 People who watch a play / film / concert are the audience.

Becca's Blog: From London to Lyon

Five not-so-good things about living abroad

Regular readers of my blog already know that I'm a student living and studying in France for a year. Overall it's turning out to be a great experience. But today I've decided to write about some of the challenges that living abroad can bring. Here we go.

A It isn't a holiday

You know those Hollywood films where the foreigner is living a nice, easy, comfortable life in another country? Well, forget it – that's not how it is. You have to do all kinds of things like open a bank account, find somewhere to live, pay bills, and so on. These things aren't easy and they take time.

B Language problems

Before I came, I thought my French was pretty good. But being here isn't like French at school was. People talk to me like they talk to each other – fast! There's new vocabulary which you have to pick up – the first time I went to a hairdresser, I didn't know what to say! Speaking French all day wears me out. Often, at night, I'll watch anything on TV in English! Anything!

C You might not like it

It's possible that after all the excitement of moving to another country, you become one of those foreigners who is unhappy abroad. I ran into some people who couldn't wait to leave France after just a few weeks. Well, there's no country in the world that suits everybody, right? It's always a risk.

D Homesickness

After a few weeks you'll start to miss all kinds of things (and people) from back home. That special food, that TV programme, the friends who you used to hang out with. Well, it's a phase you have to go through. If you're really homesick, go home. Otherwise, keep going, the homesickness won't last forever.

E Not everyone is happy that you're there

Mostly people are kind to me and happy to see me. But there are exceptions. Sometimes I go somewhere and someone says something like: 'Oh, no, another English person!' It's not nice to hear, but you have to put up with it. I find it's best to try and ignore that stuff and concentrate on the nice people I meet.

Still, overall, I'm very happy to be here and I have no regrets at all about coming. Sure there are problems but you can run into problems wherever you are. The experience gained by living abroad is invaluable. Living abroad is fun and a huge learning opportunity too. It's made me more aware of the world.

GRAMMAR

📺 Omitting relative pronouns

1 Read the two sentences from the blog. Where can you put that in each sentence? Is that the subject or object of the relative clause? Then complete the rule with the words subject and object.

- It's a phase you have to go through.
- I concentrate on the nice people I meet.

RULE: When the relative pronouns that / which / who are the <sup>1</sup>_____ of a defining relative clause, they can be omitted. But if they are the <sup>2</sup>_____ of the defining relative clause, they can't be omitted.

2 📝 Read these sentences. Put a tick (✓) if you can omit the pronoun in italics, or a cross (X) if you can't omit it.

- You'll miss the friends who you used to hang out with.
- I ran into some people who couldn't wait to leave.
- I've decided to write about some of the challenges that living abroad can bring.
- You become one of those people who wish they'd stayed at home.
- There's new vocabulary which you have to pick up.
- There's no country in the world that suits everybody.

📺 Reduced relative clauses

3 Read these sentences. Where could you put the words that is and who is? Then tick the correct box in the rule.

- I'm a student living and studying in France.
- The experience gained by living abroad is invaluable.

RULE: When relative clauses begin with a relative pronoun + the auxiliary verb be, we can omit:

- A  only the relative pronoun
 B  the relative pronoun + the verb be.

4 Cross out the words / phrases in italics that can be left out.

Footballers <sup>1</sup>who come from other countries to play in the UK often have problems. Some of the players <sup>2</sup>who are playing in the UK now are quite young and so they easily feel homesick. And then there are things like food – people <sup>3</sup>who were brought up on spicy food or exotic fruit don't always like typical British food. But the biggest problems <sup>4</sup>that they face seem to be the weather and the language. The country <sup>5</sup>that they come from might be very hot, which the UK isn't. It isn't always easy for players <sup>6</sup>who come from Brazil or Mexico, for example, to adapt to the grey skies and short winter days <sup>7</sup>that they experience in England. And not all the foreign players learn English very well – the ones <sup>8</sup>who do, tend to find it easier to adapt.

VALUES

Learning from other cultures

1 Imagine you live in another country. Put the things in Becca's blog (A, B, C, D, E) in order (1 = the most difficult, 5 = the least difficult).

- I'd like / I wouldn't like* to visit other countries.
- I'd like / I wouldn't like* to live in another country.

- Knowing about other cultures helps / doesn't help me understand my own culture.
- I think / I don't think* it's good to have people from other countries living in my country.

Nomadic People

Most of us are used to living in the same place – every day, all year round, we go ‘home’. But for some people around the world, home is a place that moves. Here are three groups of people who have a nomadic way of life.

1 The Tuareg

In the central part of northern Africa, which is mostly desert, you can find the Tuareg people, who call themselves ‘Imohag’, meaning ‘free people’. Most of the Tuareg people are found in Mali, Niger and Algeria, although some can also be found in Libya and Burkina Faso. However, being nomadic people, they regularly cross national borders.

They have their own language (Tuareg), which is spoken by around 1.2 million people, but many Tuareg people also speak Arabic and/or French. The Tuareg people are mostly Muslim, although some traditional beliefs remain from before the arrival of Islam.

In the past, the Tuareg people moved around the desert areas with their cattle, mainly between places where water could be found. Due to the formation of new countries and stricter borders, severe droughts and urbanisation, nomadic life became more difficult in the 20th century. This led many Tuareg people to settle in towns and cities.

Sometimes the Tuareg people are called ‘the blue people of the Sahara’, because of the blue turbans that the men wear.

2 The Shabsavan

This tribe lives in an area of northwest Iran and eastern Azerbaijan. There are approximately 100,000 of them. In the spring, the Shabsavan move from their winter home in Azerbaijan to their camps near Mount Sabalan, about 200 kilometres south, for the summer. Their journey usually takes around three or four weeks. Each day, they travel from midnight to midday, when the heat begins to prevent further travel. Traditionally, the women and children travelled on camels, and the men rode horses or walked, but increasingly the Shabsavan are using lorries and tractors.

When they reach their destination, everyone (including children) is involved in setting up the main camp, consisting of various types of tent. They stay there until September, when the return journey begins.

Many of the Shabsavan believe that their way of life is dying out, that their grandchildren will not do the annual migration any more.

3 Aborigines

The Aboriginal people of Australia have been living there for 40,000 years, since long before Europeans arrived. But they are not one single group – for example, there are over 200 different languages spoken by the Aborigines.

The Aborigines are hunters and gatherers, almost always on the move. Principally it is the women who gather food and care for children, while the men are the hunters. They have very few possessions, and the ones they have are mostly light, since they need to keep moving in search of food and to maintain a balanced diet (they eat seeds, fruit and vegetables, as well as small animals, snakes and insects).

However, they occasionally decide to settle somewhere and form villages.

3 According to the article, which group (or groups):

- 1 only travels twice a year?
- 2 doesn't own many things?
- 3 speaks more than one language?
- 4 sometimes lives together in villages?
- 5 moves from one country to another?
- 6 has seen their lifestyle change?

4 VOCABULARY Match the highlighted words in the article to the definitions.

- 1 the places where one country ends and another begins
- 2 on a journey or trip, the place you want to get to
- 3 all the things that you eat
- 4 times when it doesn't rain and there is little or no water
- 5 mainly
- 6 things that people have and keep
- 7 that happens once every year
- 8 stay, continue

SPEAKING

Work with a partner. Discuss the following questions.

- 1 Do you know of any other groups of people who are nomadic? What do you know about their culture?
- 2 What do you think might be the advantages and disadvantages of a nomadic lifestyle?
- 3 The article says that many of the Shahsavan believe that their grandchildren won't live in the same way. Why do you think that might be?

WRITING

An informal email

1 Read Karen's email and answer the questions.

- 1 How long has she been with the Inuit people?
- 2 When did she try to catch a seal?
- 3 What does she say strikes her most about the Inuit?

2 Which word or phrase in the email means:

- 1 a great deal
- 2 I have finally arrived
- 3 agreed that I could accompany them
- 4 I am extremely happy
- 5 my experiences here
- 6 one or two days ago

Hi James,

How are you doing? Hope you're OK!

Well, here I am at last – living in northern Canada with the nomadic Inuit people. You know that I've been wanting to do this for years, and my dream has finally come true. I'm over the moon to be here.

I got here ten days ago and met a family who said I could go along with them to hunt. I've already done some amazing things – sleeping in an igloo, for example, and watching the Inuit people go hunting for fish and for small animals.

The most difficult thing to deal with, of course, is the cold. There's also the fact that you have to keep moving every few days to find food. The way they hunt is interesting. The Inuit make a hole in the ice and hope that a seal will appear so that they can catch it. I went hunting with my host dad a couple of days ago – he showed me how to make a hole and then we stood for six hours in the freezing cold, waiting for a seal to appear. It never came. I got so fed up. But then I thought: 'Hey, the Inuit people do this every day, sometimes waiting for ten hours. And sometimes they catch a seal, and sometimes they don't. What's my problem?' What amazes me most about them is their patience, and my own is getting loads better!

Well, I'll write and tell you more about how I'm getting on with things when I can. Hope you're well!

All the best,

Karen.

3 Why does Karen not use the expressions in Exercise 2 in her email?

- Choose which of the three groups you are living with.
- Decide what things in general have been good / not so good about your experiences so far.

How can people stay healthy at work?

Spending about 40 hours a week at work can be very tiring, but the workplace can be unhealthy in other ways, too. Sitting or standing for a long time can cause pain and other negative effects, and there can also be problems related to food. But some simple things can be done to make the workplace a healthier place. Here are some tips.

1 _____

It has been shown that a 30- to 50-minute walk in a park or in a wood can improve people's work performance by about 20 per cent.

2 _____

Yes, really! In an experiment with 96 students, the ones who were allowed to use the Internet during a ten-minute break were found to work better afterwards.

3 _____

It's possible to find exercises you can do in your chair or using your desk that will help you stay in better condition.

4 _____

It isn't very healthy to sit down all day. It can cause back pains, for example. It's always good to get up sometimes and go somewhere else in the office. Try not to stay still for too long.

5 _____

It's easy to just get a sandwich from the machine, but it's much better to bring something that has been made at home. Oh, and water, too – that's really important. Drink lots.

6 _____

A lot of people now spend hours sitting in front of a computer. Back pain and wrist problems are easily caused that way. It's important to pay attention to your posture (for example, the position of your back and shoulders) when you're sitting down. Keep any screen at eye level while you're working so that you don't have to put your head down to look at it!

WRITING

REVIEW:

True Tales of American Life

In 1999, the writer Paul Auster was asked if he would contribute stories to America's National Public Radio. But Auster decided to ask listeners to send in their stories instead. He wanted true stories that seemed like fiction. They could be about anything at all, they just had to be true and short; the ones chosen would be read aloud on the radio.

To Auster's surprise, more than 4000 listeners sent in stories. It would have been impossible to read them all on the radio, so Auster took almost 200 of them and put them in a book – this book.

I liked some things about the collection, others not so much. Because the stories were written by ordinary people, they're not always well-written (I hate to think what the ones that weren't included were like!). And the categorisation into sections like Families, Objects, Strangers, or Animals means that if you read one story after the other, it can be a bit repetitive. But with any book of separate stories, you can just read one here and there whenever you feel like it, you don't have to read it straight through: and that's probably the best thing to do here, too.

What's great about these stories is their veracity – they're all true, no matter how unbelievable (and some of them really are incredible). One or two of the stories left me almost in tears, they were so painful.

So, overall it's worth getting and reading.

If you're into real-life stories like these, I'd also recommend a collection called The Moth – more on this next time.

- 1 Look at the photo and then read the introduction to the extract. How do you think Marcus feels about his relationship with his mum?
- 2  Read and listen to the extract and check your ideas.

About a Boy by Nick Hornby

Marcus is a schoolboy who lives with his mum, who is depressed. Marcus has a bad time at school – he gets bullied quite a lot, especially because of the clothes his mum makes him wear. Marcus has met Will, a rich lazy man who makes friends with Marcus and buys him new trainers.

Here, Marcus and his mum are going home after visiting Will at his flat.

'You're not going round there again,' she said on the way home.

Marcus knew she'd say it, and he also knew that he'd take no notice, but he argued anyway.

'Why not?'

'If you've got anything to say, you say it to me. If you want new clothes, I'll get them.'

'But you don't know what I need.'

'So tell me.'

'I don't know what I need. Only Will knows what I need.'

'Don't be ridiculous.'

'It's true. He knows what things kids wear.'

'Kids wear what they put on in the mornings.'

'You know what I mean.'

'You mean that he thinks he's trendy, and that [...] he knows which trainers are fashionable, even though he doesn't know the first thing about anything else.'

That was exactly what he meant. That was what Will was good at, and Marcus thought he was lucky to have found him.

'We don't need that kind of person. We're doing all right our way.'

Marcus looked out of the bus window and thought about whether this was true, and decided it wasn't, that neither of them were doing all right, whichever way you looked at it.

'If you are having trouble it's nothing to do with what shoes you wear, I can tell you that for nothing.'

'No, I know, but –'

'Marcus, trust me, OK? I've been your mother for twelve years. I haven't made too bad a job of it. I do think about it. I know what I'm doing.'

Marcus had never thought of his mother in that way before, as someone who knew what she was doing. He had never thought that she didn't have a clue either; it was just that what she did with him (for him? to him?) didn't appear to be anything like that. He had always looked on being a mother as straightforward, something like, say, driving: most people could do it, and you could mess it up by doing something really obvious, by driving your car into a bus, or not telling your kid to say please and thank you and sorry (there were loads of kids at school, he reckoned, kids who stole and swore too much and bullied other kids, whose mums and dads had a lot to answer for). If you looked at it that way, there wasn't an awful lot to think about. But his mum seemed to be saying that there was more to it than that. She was telling him she had a plan.

If she had a plan, then he had a choice. He could trust her, believe her when she said she knew what she was doing [...] Or he could decide that, actually, she was off her head [...] Either way it was scary. He didn't want to put up with things as they were, but the other choice meant he'd have to be his own mother, and how could you be your own mother when you were only twelve? He could tell himself to say please and thank you and sorry, that was easy, but he didn't know where to start with the rest of it. He didn't even know what the rest of it was. He hadn't even known until today that there was a rest of it.

1  Read and listen to the introduction and the first part of the extract. Answer the questions.

- 1 What is Tess's full name?
- 2 In the company, her name is used to mean something. What, and why?

Wild Country by Margaret Johnson

Tess and Grant are tour leaders for a group walking holiday in France. But they don't get on well – at least at the start ...

'I didn't ask to work with you,' Grant said, 'and I know you didn't ask to work with me. But here we are, so shall we at least try to get on with each other?' I looked back at him crossly. 'I'll try if you try,' I said, but I didn't like the smile he gave me.

I'd been a tour leader for Wild Country, my father's walking holiday company, for a year. In that time I'd been late meeting a group at the airport several times. I'd also lost my wallet, with all the money to buy food for the tour group for a week in it. And, of course, everybody who worked for Wild Country knew about the time I'd taken a group to the wrong town on the wrong day. They'd all missed their plane home. Now, that was a very famous mistake.

My mistakes were so famous in the company that doing something wrong was called 'doing a Tess Marriot'. I think it was Grant Cooper who started saying that, actually – horrible man.

2  Read and listen to the second part of the extract. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- 1 Tess thinks her father's idea was a bad one.
- 2 She's happy when she arrives at the airport.
- 3 She tries hard to smile when she goes into the airport.
- 4 She likes Grant because he laughs a lot.
- 5 She helps Grant to find the group of tourists.

And now my father had arranged for me to work with Grant Cooper on this tour. He thought I would learn something from Grant — something to make me a better tour leader. I thought my father was wrong. I was just too different to Grant; and I didn't want to be like him anyway.

After thirty minutes in a hot bus with these thoughts going round and round my head I felt very fed up. Which was the opposite of how I should be when I meet a group at the start of a holiday.

'A tour leader should smile as often as possible.' That's what it said in the book I was given when I started the job. 'At the beginning of a tour, holidaymakers are often tired from their journeys. They may also be worried about what the other people on the holiday will be like. A smile from you makes everybody feel better.'

So as I entered the airport building I tried to put a smile on my face. But it was difficult to keep it there as I tried, without luck, to find my group.

'Wild Country, Walking in Provence?' I asked any group of more than four people, but they all looked at me as if I was mad. I was beginning to think I'd got the time wrong or come to the wrong airport when I saw him — Grant Cooper. My heart immediately gave a jump, and not just because I was nervous about being late. I didn't like Grant, but he was very good-looking. I'd liked the look of him when I first met him. But then I'd spoken to him, and all that changed.

I just didn't find him easy to get on with. Every time he spoke to me I felt he was laughing at me. It made me so mad I wanted to scream.

As I got closer, I could see that Grant had already found the group. There was nothing else to do but walk up to them with a big Wild Country smile on my face.

'Hello, everybody,' I said. 'I'm Tess Marriot, one of your tour leaders. I hope you had a good journey?'

'Hello, Tess,' Grant said. 'Did you get lost on your way to the airport?'

3 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 Imagine you're Tess. What's your answer to Grant's question at the end of the extract?
- 2 In the extract we learn that 'doing a Tess Marriot' means making a mistake.
  - a Think of a famous person who is well known for certain actions or qualities. How could that person's name be used?

I think 'doing a Beyoncé' could mean singing really well and dancing at the same time.

- b How would you like your name to be used?

Susannah's advice page

Write with your problem and Susannah will give you advice. This week's letter is from Alan in Salisbury, UK.

Dear Susannah,

Last month, we moved to a new town. My parents quickly made friends with the people who live next door. They've got a son of about my age. He's friendly and invites me to do things with him. But the thing is, when we see other kids, he calls them names and makes horrible comments. He wants me to join in, but I don't want to.

What can I do? If I tell my parents, it'll be hard because they really like his parents. And to be honest, I haven't got many other friends yet. If I stop hanging out with him, maybe he'll start calling me names too.

What should I do?

Alan, Salisbury

Dear Alan,

It's often difficult to make new friends when you move town, so it was almost perfect that your new neighbours had a son your age and that he wanted to be your friend. What a shame that you're finding it difficult to spend time with him.

You don't say in your letter if you think you could be friends if his behaviour was better. This is the first question you ought to ask yourself. If the answer is no, then maybe you'd better end the friendship now. Don't worry – I'm sure you'll soon make lots of friends when you start school.

However, if you think you could be friends, then you should definitely talk to him about the name-calling and explain that he had better stop saying those things. If he's going to be a good friend, he'll listen to you. If he ignores you, then this friendship probably isn't going to work.

Finally, it's a good idea to talk to your parents. They know you best and are often the best people to give you advice.

Good luck!

Susannah

Dear Susannah,

I have very bad eyesight and need to wear glasses. Because of this, some people at school call me names. I tried not to let it bother me too much, but the problem is that it happens quite often. I've always enjoyed school and had lots of friends, but I'm starting to hate going there. My grades are also getting worse and some of the teachers have said they're disappointed with me. I know I should talk to the teachers, but I'm sure this is only going to make things worse. Can you help?

Bullring Kid and Country Cowboy

by Louise Clover

'Isn't this exciting, Fizza?' said her mum, coming out of the cottage door. 'You can just smell the peace, can't you?' Fizza pretended to yawn. She already knew that this holiday was going to be the most boring one ever.

Fizza McIntyre, a city girl from the huge city of Birmingham, meets her cousin Fletcher McIntyre, a country boy from the tiny island of Sark. An unlikely friendship begins ... which leads to an incredible adventure.

- 2  Read and listen to the rest of the extract. Check your answer.

Fizza was standing in the middle of a field. Cloudy was on one side of her and Golden was on the other.

'Right,' said Fletcher. 'First! You have to get on – like this!'

And with a simple little jump, he climbed onto Golden.

'Now, you try.'

Nervously, Fizza held onto Cloudy's leather straps and kicked her leg high in the air – unfortunately, at that moment, Cloudy moved and Fizza fell to the ground. Fletcher laughed and laughed. It looked like he was going to fall off his horse.

'No, no, no! You're not fighting with her!' he laughed as, with tears in his eyes, he got off Golden.

'Here, let me help you,' he said, putting out his hand to help her get up.

Fizza didn't like the fact that she was being laughed at and refused to take it at first.

'Oh come on!' he said. 'Hold the saddle, give me your left leg ... and now lift your right leg up and over ... whoa! Look out!'

Fizza just missed Fletcher's head as she put her leg in the air, but the next thing she knew, she was sitting on top of Cloudy. Fletcher quickly jumped back on Golden.

'OK! Now!' he said. 'Let's go!'

He gave Golden a little kick and they took off across the field very quickly. Fizza remained puzzled as she watched them go.

'Is he crazy? I can't do that!' she thought.

However, as Fletcher reached the edge of the field, he turned Golden round and came back to her.

'Why didn't you follow me?' he said, laughing. Fizza shook her head at him. This guy was crazy ... but he was OK.

'I'm not like you! I can't ride like a cowboy!' she said.

'I can't believe you've never ridden before. So what do you do in Birmingham?'

'I spend my time on my computer, I practise judo and I go to the shops at the Bullring sometimes.'

'The Bullring?'

'It's a shopping centre.'

'Do you like shopping?'

'Not really, but my friend Babs does.'

'Oh, I see,' said Fletcher, who couldn't understand why anyone would want to go shopping unless it was for horse food.

'Every cowboy needs a name,' he said, 'and so I'm going to call you ... the Bullring Kid!'

For the next two hours Fletcher McIntyre patiently taught Fizza McIntyre how to ride a horse. They started by walking the horses slowly and, little by little, he got Fizza to go a little faster. Once, when Cloudy went a bit too fast, Fizza became very frightened.

'I can't stop!' she cried out. 'I can't stop!'

Quickly, Fletcher chased after her, took Cloudy's straps and stopped her. He could see that she was crying.

'It's OK, it's OK, Fizza,' he said kindly.

'You're doing really well – I won't let you get hurt. I promise.'

And Fletcher kept his promise. Very gently and very patiently, he taught Fizza how to ride.

We asked readers to tell us stories about bad decisions they or people they know have made. Here's this week's story.

- 1 A friend of mine has a sister, Pauline, who's six years older than him. She was always good at school, but all she really wanted to do was to help her parents in their small shop, and then perhaps take it over when they were too old to run it.
- 2 Pauline's parents, however, really wanted her to go to university, so she spent three years at school working incredibly hard, studying for an exam for a famous university in another city. She passed, and a few months later she left home to start studying there.
- 3 From the first moment, Pauline wished she hadn't gone to university. She hated it. She'd been a clever student at school, but the university work was much harder. She didn't make many friends either, so she was lonely and homesick. After six months, she asked her parents to let her leave and come home. They were very surprised when she said that she'd never wanted to go to university. 'If only you'd told us!' they said. 'But I didn't want to disappoint you,' was her answer.
- 4 Now Pauline is working in the shop and she's very happy. I wish she'd told her parents that university wasn't what she wanted – then she wouldn't have wasted six months of her life. Pauline should have made her own decision.

The Remains of the Day

by Kazuo Ishiguro

Stevens has spent his life as a butler, working for Lord Darlington. He is now an elderly man. At the end of the book, he finds himself sitting alone on a bench, on a pier at the seaside. A stranger begins to talk to him, and Stevens starts to tell the man about his life and his feelings about Lord Darlington.

You must have been very attached to this Lord whatever. And it's three years since he passed away, you say? I can see you were very attached to him, mate.'

'Lord Darlington wasn't a bad man. He wasn't a bad man at all. And at least he had the privilege of being able to say at the end of his life that he made his own mistakes. He chose a certain path in life, it proved to be a misguided one, but there, he chose it, he can say that at least. As for myself, I can't even claim that. You see, I trusted. I trusted in his lordship's wisdom. All those years I served him, I trusted I was doing something worthwhile. I can't even say I made my own mistakes. Really – one has to ask oneself – what dignity is there in that?'

'Now, look, mate, I'm not sure I follow everything you're saying. But if you ask me, your attitude's all wrong, see? Don't keep looking back all the time, you're bound to get depressed. And all right, you can't do your job as well as you used to. But it's the same for all of us, see? We've all got to put our feet up at some point. Look at me. Been happy as a lark since the day I retired. All right, so neither of us are exactly in our first flush of youth, but you've got to keep looking forward.'

And I believe it was then that he said:

'You've got to enjoy yourself. The evening's the best part of the day. You've done your day's work. Now you can put your feet up and enjoy it. That's how I look at it. Ask anybody, they'll all tell you. The evening's the best part of the day.' [...]

It is now some twenty minutes since the man left, but I have remained here on this bench to await the event that has just taken place – namely, the switching on of the pier lights. [...] For a great many people, the evening is the most enjoyable part of the day. Perhaps, then, there is something to his advice that I should cease looking back so much, that I should adopt a more positive outlook and try to make the best of whatever remains of my day. After all, what can we ever gain in forever looking back and blaming ourselves if our lives have not turned out quite as we might have wished? [...] What is the point in worrying oneself too much about what one could or could not have done to control the course one's life took? [...] And if some of us are prepared to sacrifice much in life in order to pursue such aspirations, surely that is in itself, whatever the outcome, cause for pride and contentment.

- 2 Read the extract quickly and choose the best ending for the statement.

Stevens thinks that perhaps he should stop ...

- a talking to people he doesn't know.
- b thinking about the past so much.

WRITING

A magazine article

1 Read Eve's article and answer the questions.

- 1 Does she agree with the statement?
- 2 What are her main arguments to support her position?

Students should try to get some work experience before they go to university

Do you really want to spend the rest of your life either studying or working? Wouldn't you like the chance to do a little more with your life and find out what it is you really want?

Most young people who have decided to go to university or college go straight from school. A few may take a gap year to see a bit of the world or earn some money but how many take five or six years or even longer before they go on to study more?

These days, young people are led to believe that the pressures in the labour market are so high that they cannot afford to waste any time doing things that won't directly help them get a good job. They feel that if they haven't graduated by the age of 22, they will be too old to be successful.

This is simply not true. Graduates are feeling the pressure precisely because so many of them are looking for the same jobs at the same time and there's very little for an employer to choose between them.

Anyone who is brave enough to wait some years before they go to university will, so long as they have used their time well, be far more attractive as an employee. Their extra experience of life will mean they can offer companies so much more than any fresh-faced 22-year-old can. Besides, the fact they've taken time to decide exactly what it is they wanted to do shows that now they really want to do it.

So go on. Be brave. Delay. And go out and find out a little more about life. After all, you've got the rest of your life to work.

2 Look at the first and last paragraphs of the article. What technique does Eve use in each one? What effect does this have on the reader?

3 Choose one of the topics below. What is your position? What are your main arguments to support your position? Write notes.

- Doing a degree course is a waste of money.
- The government should pay for all students to study at university or college.

My position	Argument 1	Argument 2	Argument 3

4 You're going to write an article for your school magazine about the topic you chose in Exercise 3. Think carefully about how to start and finish it.

- 1 Think of two direct questions you could use to start the article.
- 2 Think of two imperatives to conclude your article.

5 Write your article (200–250 words).

UNIT 1

Present tenses (review)

To talk about the present, we mostly use the following tenses: present simple, present continuous, present perfect simple and present perfect continuous.

- 1 We use the present simple to talk about facts and give opinions, and to talk about regular habits.

It takes around four minutes to boil an egg. (fact)

I think this is awful. (opinion)

I usually go to bed around 11 o'clock. (habit)

- 2 We use the present continuous to talk about what's happening at or around the time of speaking.

What are you doing?

A TV company is making a programme about life plans.

- 3 We use the present perfect simple to talk about past actions and experiences but without saying exactly when. This tense links the present and the past and we often use it when a past event has an effect on the present.

She's read lots of articles about this and she's learned a lot.

The storm has caused a lot of flooding in the town.

- 4 We use the present perfect continuous to talk about actions that started in the past and are still happening.

I've been trying to get fitter for several weeks now.

Future tenses (review)

To talk about the future, we mostly use the following tenses: present continuous, will / won't (do) and going to (do).

- 1 We often use the present continuous to talk about future plans and arrangements.

I'm having a guitar lesson tomorrow morning.

- 2 We often use will / won't (do) to make predictions.

She's very clever – I'm sure she'll do really well at university.

This is the dry time of year – it won't rain again until September.

- 3 We often use going to (do) to talk about intentions.

Next year, I'm going to start university.

Where are you going to go on holiday next year?

should / shouldn't, may (not) / might (not)

- 1 We use may (not) and might (not) to say that something is possible, but not certain.

He may come by bus. (= Maybe he will come by bus.)

They might be at home. (= Maybe they are at home.)

- 2 To ask or give advice to someone or to make recommendations, the most common modal verb we can use is should(n't).

If your classmates bully you, you should talk to a teacher about this problem.

You shouldn't spend so much money on clothes.

UNIT 2

Narrative tenses: past simple, past continuous, past perfect simple

To talk about the past and to tell narratives, we mostly use the following tenses: past simple, past continuous and past perfect simple.

- 1 We use the past simple to talk about actions that happened at one moment in the past, or were true at one time in the past.

I fell over.

People didn't have easy lives two hundred years ago.

- 2 We use the past continuous to describe ongoing actions or situations around a time in the past.

I was running really fast (and I fell over).

Thousands of people were living in very enclosed spaces.

We also use the past continuous to talk about an ongoing action that was interrupted by another.

The fire started while people were sleeping.

- 3 We use the past perfect to describe an event that happened before another.

The weather had been very hot when the fire broke out.

When we arrived, the film had already started.

would and used to

- 1 We use the expression used to + verb to talk about habits and customs in the past that are no longer true.

My dad used to play football. (= My dad played football in the past but he doesn't any more.)

When I was a kid, I used to listen to pop music. (= That was my habit but I don't do this any more.)

- 2 It is also possible to use would + verb to talk about habits and customs in the past.

My mum would cook chicken every Sunday. (= This was a custom of my mum's.)

At school, I would always ask the teacher questions. (= This was a habit of mine when I was a schoolchild.)

- 3 The difference between used to and would is that we can only use would for repeated actions – we cannot use it for a permanent state or situation.

He used to be a police officer. (A permanent state)

When I was little, I used to play in the garden a lot. (A repeated action)

Future in the past

- 1 To talk about the future seen from a particular point in the past, we can use would (the past simple form of the verb will) and the bare infinitive form of the verb.

Jim decided he would stay at home on Friday night.

Sally was sure she would get a good mark.

- 2 The verbs or phrases that we usually use after would to form the future in the past are think, believe, know, be sure, promise, hope, imagine, expect.

I thought he would start crying after the discussion we had.

I didn't believe he would change his phone number.

They knew their cousin would arrive home late the next day.

Jim was sure that the medical tests would show he was healthy.

Dad promised he would be at my birthday in time.

We hoped we would never see each other again.

She imagined her life would be better after all the difficulties she'd been through.

I expected she would come to the party, but I guess she decided not to go out anymore.

UNIT 3

Expressing possibility, obligation, permission and prohibition

- 1 We can talk about obligation and necessity by using must, have to and (be) supposed to.

You must get there before eight o'clock. (= This is an obligation imposed by the speaker.)

We have to finish our projects by Friday. (= This is an obligation imposed by someone else.)

We're supposed to switch off our phones in lessons. (= This is the rule, but we don't always follow it.)

- 2 We can talk about no obligation or no necessity by using don't have to and don't need to.

You don't have to eat this if you don't want to.

We didn't need to buy tickets - my dad gave us some.

- 3 We can say something is (or isn't) a good idea by using should(n't).

You should leave now if you don't want to miss your bus. I shouldn't eat any more or I'll feel sick.

- 4 We can talk about permission using let or be allowed to. Let is active voice, while be allowed to is passive voice.

The school lets us use the tennis courts at the weekend.

We're allowed to use the tennis courts at the weekend.

- 5 We can talk about prohibition using (not) be allowed to or don't/doesn't let. When we don't know, or don't want to say who it is that prohibits something, we use 'they'.

Cyclists are not allowed to leave their bikes here.

They don't let cyclists leave their bikes here.

Necessity: (didn't) need to / needn't have

We use didn't need to and needn't have to talk about the past necessity of actions. There is a small but important difference between the structures.

- 1 didn't need to usually suggests that we didn't do something because it wasn't necessary.

I didn't need to go to the doctor. (I didn't go.)

- 2 needn't have means that we did something but actually it wasn't necessary.

We needn't have cooked all this food - only four people turned up at the party. (We cooked a lot of food but it wasn't necessary.)

Adverbs and comparative adverbs

- 1 We use adverbs to describe verbs — they say how an action is or was performed.

She shouted angrily. Run quickly!

They got to the theatre early.

We can also use adverbs before adjectives.

It was really cold on Sunday.

The coffee was incredibly hot, so I couldn't drink it.

- 2 Most adverbs are formed by adjective + -ly.

slow → slowly nice → nicely

If the adjective ends in -le, we drop the -e and add -y.

incredible → incredibly possible → possibly

If the adjective ends in consonant + -y we change the -y to -i and add -ly.

angry → angrily lucky → luckily

hungry → hungrily

- 3 Some adverbs are irregular – they don't have an -ly ending.

good → well fast → fast hard → hard

early → early late → late

- 4 To compare adverbs, we use the same rules as we do when we compare adjectives. With short adverbs, we add -er or -r, and than after the adverb.

I worked hard, but Sue worked harder than me!

- 5 With longer adverbs, we use more (+ adverb) + than.

She does things more easily than me.

- 6 To compare the adverb well, we use better ... than. To compare the adverb far, we use further ... than.

He cooks better than me.

London to Mumbai is further than London to New York.

UNIT 4

Phrasal verbs

A phrasal verb is a combination of a verb with a preposition or an adverb – this creates a new verb which often has a meaning that is completely different from the verb alone. For example, the verb 'look' means 'use your eyes in order to see something', but the phrasal verb 'look after' means 'to take care of someone or something'. Phrasal verbs are very frequent in both spoken and written English.

- Most phrasal verbs have two parts.
I can't work out the answer. (find by thinking)
I always look after other people's things. (take care of)
- With some phrasal verbs, the two parts can be separated by the object of the verb.
I worked out the answer. OR I worked the answer out.
- In other phrasal verbs, these parts can never be separated.
I look after my clothes. (NOT Hook my clothes after.)
- To find out if a phrasal verb can be split or not, look in a dictionary:
If it can be split, it will be listed: work st out
If it can't be split, it will be listed: look after sb
- Some phrasal verbs have more than one meaning.
My car's broken down. (stopped working)
When she heard the news, she broke down. (started crying).

Second conditional

- We use the second conditional to talk about unreal or imagined situations in the present or future.
If I was good at tennis, I would play for the school team. (= I am not good at tennis, and don't play for the school team.)
She wouldn't be in the photography class if she wasn't interested in it. (= She is here because she is interested in it.)
- The second conditional has two parts (or 'clauses'). We usually make the second conditional like this:

If clause	Main clause
if + past simple +	comma would/wouldn't + main verb

If I lived in town, I'd go to the cinema more often.
If he was nicer, more people would talk to him.

We can change the order of the two clauses if we want to. When we put the if clause first, we write a comma (,) after it. If we put the main clause first, there is no comma.
I would go to the cinema more often if I lived in town.
- The word would is often spoken as 'd. We can write it like this in informal writing, too. Also would not is often spoken as wouldn't.

I wish

When we want to talk about how we would like something in the present to be different, we can use I wish + past tense.
I wish you were here. (= You are not here and I am not happy about it.)
I wish we could go out tonight. (= We can not go out tonight and I am not happy about it.)
I wish it wasn't raining today. (= It is raining today and I am not happy about it.)

UNIT 5

Past perfect simple (review)

- 1 We use the past perfect when we need to make it clear that one action happened before another action in the past.

When we got to the theatre, the play had started.
(= The play started before we got to the theatre.)

Compare this with:

When we got to the theatre, the play started.
(= The play started when/after we got to the theatre.)

- 2 We form the past perfect with had ('d) / had not (hadn't) + the past participle of the main verb.

She didn't watch the film because she had seen it.

Past perfect continuous

- 1 We use the past perfect continuous to talk about situations or activities that started in the past and were still continuing at another time in the past.

She was very tired because she had been working for a very long time.
When he got there, she had been waiting for an hour.

- 2 We form the past perfect continuous with the past perfect of the verb to be (had (not) been) + the -ing form of the main verb.

I didn't know the answer to the question because I hadn't been listening.

- 3 The past perfect continuous focuses on how long an activity had been happening. It talks about situations or activities that may have stopped and may have had a result in the past.

The ground was very wet because it had been raining all night.
We were tired because we 'd been travelling since the day before.

Past perfect continuous vs. past continuous

We use both past continuous and past perfect continuous tenses to talk about actions in progress at a certain point of time in the past.

- 1 The past continuous (also called past progressive) is a verb tense which is used to show that an ongoing past action was happening at a specific moment of interruption, or that two ongoing actions were happening at the same time. We generally use the past continuous to talk about actions and states in progress (happening) around a particular time in the past. It emphasises the idea of continuity – the action continued for a period of time in the past.

- 2 We use the past perfect continuous to show that an event or action in the past was still continuing, but to emphasise the idea of duration.

She had been waiting for two hours when I arrived.
The roads were covered in snow in the morning. It had been snowing all night.
John was writing an email when his sister entered the room.
It was snowing when we arrived at Vatra Dornei.

UNIT 6

The passive (present simple, past simple, present continuous, present perfect)

- We use the passive when it isn't important who does the action, or when we don't know who does it. The passive is also used when the action is more important than who does/did it.
These cars are made in Japan. (It isn't important who makes them.)
This house was built in 1895. (We don't know who built it.)
- The passive is formed with the verb be + the past participle of a verb. The verb be can be in any tense.
Present simple passive:
These watches are sold all over the world.
Present continuous passive:
I think we are being watched.
Past simple passive:
The city was destroyed in an earthquake.
Present perfect passive:
An important decision has been taken today.

Third conditional

- We use the third conditional to talk about unreal, imaginary situations in the past and their imagined results.
If you had practised, you wouldn't have lost.
(= You didn't practise, and you lost.)
- The third conditional has two parts (or clauses). We usually make the third conditional like this:

if clause	Main clause
If + past perfect	would have / wouldn't have + main verb
If my sister had asked me	I'd have told her
If I'd heard the alarm clock,	I wouldn't have been late.
- We can change the order of the two clauses if we want to.
I would have told my sister if she'd asked me.
I wouldn't have been late if I'd heard the alarm clock.
- When we put the if clause first, we write a comma (,) after it. When we put the main clause first, there is no comma.

UNIT 7

Relative pronouns

We use relative pronouns to start a relative clause.

- To refer to people, we use who or that.
He's a writer. He wrote that fantastic story.
→ He's the writer who / that wrote that fantastic story.
- To refer to things, we use which or that.
It's a great story. It was made into a film.
→ It's a great story that / which was made into a film.
- To refer to possessions, we use whose.
I know a boy. His sister is on TV.
→ I know a boy whose sister is on TV.
- To refer to places, we use where.
This is the town. I was born here.
→ This is the town where I was born.

Defining and non-defining relative clauses

There are two kinds of relative clause: defining and non-defining.

- A defining relative clause identifies an object, a person, a place or a possession. We need this information to know who or what is being talked about. When we write these sentences, we don't use any commas.
The woman was a genius. She wrote this book.
→ The woman who wrote this book was a genius.
I saw a film last night. The film was terrible.
→ The film that I saw last night was terrible.
- We use non-defining relative clauses to add extra information, which is not needed to understand the sentence. We put commas around these clauses when we write them. They are rarely used in conversational language.
My uncle lives in Sydney. He's a very successful writer. → My uncle, who lives in Sydney, is a very successful writer.

Relative clauses with which

- When we want to refer back to a whole idea or clause, we use the relative pronoun which.
He went into the desert alone. It was a dangerous thing to do.
→ He went into the desert alone, which was a dangerous thing to do.
- We cannot use that or what in this way – only which.
Stephen King has sold millions of books, which (that / what) has made him very rich.

UNIT 8

Reported speech (review)

We use reported speech to report what someone said in the past. In reported speech, we often change the verb that was used in direct speech.

'It's 10 o'clock,' she said. → She said it was 10 o'clock.

'It's raining,' my mum said. → My mum said it was raining.

'I've had a really bad day,' he said. → He said he'd had a really bad day.

'He didn't remember to phone me,' I said. → I said he hadn't remembered to phone me.

'I can't do this exercise,' my friend said. → My friend said she couldn't do the exercise.

'I'll pick you up at eight,' she said. → She said she would pick me up at eight.

'We're going to tell the police,' she said. → She said they were going to tell the police.

But sometimes the tense doesn't change.

'They'd stolen my car,' she said. → She said they'd stolen her car.

'No one would want it to happen,' he said. → He said that no one would want it to happen.

Reported questions, requests and imperatives

1 With reported questions, we use statement word order and NOT question word order. We also do not use a question mark.

She asked me who my friends were.

(NOT They asked me ~~who were my friends~~.)

I asked her what she did.

(NOT I asked her ~~what did she do~~.)

They asked me why I wanted the job.

(NOT They asked me ~~why did I want the job~~.)

2 When we report yes / no questions, we use if (or whether) and statement word order.

'Is that book good?'

→ She asked me if the book was good.

'Do you eat fish?'

→ He asked me whether I ate fish.

3 When we report wh- questions (with who / where / what / how / when etc.), we use the same question word and statement word order.

'What are you looking at?'

→ He asked me what I was looking at.

'Why did you leave the door open?'

→ They asked me why I had left the door open.

'How much money did they steal?'

→ They asked me how much money they'd stolen.

4 With requests, we use asked + person + to (do).

'Please help me with this, Mum.'

→ He asked his mum to help him.

'Can you close the door, please?'

→ She asked me to close the door.

5 With imperatives, we use told + person + (not) to (do).

'Go away!'

→ He told me to go away.

'Don't phone the police!'

→ They told me not to phone the police.

UNIT 9

Modals of deduction (present)

Sometimes we express an opinion about whether something is true or not now, based on what we know or can see. We use the modal verbs must / can't / might / could.

- 1 When we're sure that something is true, we often use must + verb.

They live in a really big house – they must have a lot of money.

- 2 When we're sure that something isn't true, we often use can't + verb.

That cheese is two weeks old, so it can't be good any more.

- 3 When we aren't sure, we often use might or could + verb, to show our uncertainty.

They're speaking Portuguese, so they might be Brazilian.

Perhaps we shouldn't go in there – it could be dangerous.

Modals of deduction (past)

Sometimes we express an opinion about a past situation or event, based on what we know or can see now. We use the modal verbs must / can't / might / could + have + past participle.

The wind blew this tree down. It must have been really strong.

The door lock isn't broken, so the thieves can't have got in that way.

I'm not sure when my bike was stolen but it might have been yesterday afternoon.

Police think that the criminals could have taken more than a million dollars.

should(n't) have

We use should / shouldn't have (done) to criticise things that we, or other people, did in the past.

You should have come to the party. (= You didn't come to the party, and I think that was a mistake.)

They should have won. (= They didn't win, and I think that was bad / wrong.)

You shouldn't have taken it without asking me. (= You did take it without asking me, and that was wrong.)

I shouldn't have said that. (= I did say it, and I think that I was wrong to do so.)

UNIT 10

Relative clauses (review)

- 1 A defining relative clause identifies the thing, person, place or possession that we are talking about. We do not use a comma in these clauses.

The woman who gives the lectures is very intelligent.

(= There is only one woman who gives the lectures.)

The city where I grew up is a great place. (= I am talking about the only city where I grew up.)

- 2 A non-defining relative clause gives additional information about the thing, person, place or possession we are talking about. This information is between commas.

The woman, who gives the lectures, is very intelligent.

(= I am talking about an intelligent woman and adding the non-essential information that she gives lectures.)

The city, where I grew up, is a great place. (= I am talking about a city that's a great place, and adding that it is where I grew up.)

which to refer to a whole clause

When we want to refer back to a clause or an idea, we use the relative pronoun which (not that or what)

He had to go out and find a job, which wasn't easy.

This phone is very good, which is why it's so popular.

Omitting relative pronouns and reduced relative clauses

- 1 When the relative pronouns that / which / who are the object of the following clause, they can be omitted. They can't be omitted when they are the subject of the following clause.

He's the man (that) I told you about.

He's the boy who sold me this watch.

- 2 When the relative pronoun is followed by the verb be, we can leave out both the relative pronoun and the verb be. This is called a 'reduced relative clause'.

Their house, (which was) built only last year, was completely destroyed by the tornado.

The people (who are) running the company are not doing their job properly.

PRONUNCIATION

UNIT 1

Linking words with up

1  Read and listen to the dialogue.

- STEVE What's up, Jenny?
JENNY I'm tired! I'm up late every night studying.
STEVE You need your sleep! Can't you get up later?
JENNY Not really. I've taken up the flute this year. I practise in the mornings.
STEVE Well, it's up to you, but I'd give that up!
JENNY Hmmm ... I wish I hadn't signed up for the school orchestra now!

2 What happens to the words in blue? Circle the correct word to complete the rule:

A word ending in a consonant / vowel sound links with the following word when it begins with a consonant / vowel sound.

3  Listen, repeat and practise.

UNIT 2

3  Listen, repeat and practise.

UNIT 3

Intonation – inviting, accepting and refusing invitations

1  Read and listen to the dialogue.

- MAX Hi, Gina! I'm organising a hiking trip. Why don't you come along?
GINA Thank you, Max. I'd love to. When are you going?
MAX Next Saturday. We're going to climb Mount Sunrise. How about bringing some friends?
GINA That's a great idea! Oh ... I'm already going out on Saturday. What a shame. I'm sorry, Max.

2  Underline the two invitations and the sentences where Gina accepts and refuses the invitation. What happens to Max and Gina's voice in each case? Listen again and check.

3  Listen, repeat and practise.

UNIT 4

GET IT RIGHT!

UNIT 1

Present simple vs. present continuous

It's common to confuse the present simple and present continuous.

We use the present simple to describe facts, routine activities and opinions.

✓ I usually go there on foot.

✗ I'm ~~usually going~~ there on foot.

We use the present continuous to describe events that are happening now or around now.

✓ I'm sending you a photo of my new bike.

✗ I ~~send~~ you a photo of my new bike.

Find the error in each of these sentences. Rewrite the sentences correctly.

0 I know how hard you try to get on the team.

I know how hard you are trying to get on the team.

1 I think I am the person you look for.

_____

2 I'm playing tennis on Tuesdays.

3 At the moment I write a letter to a friend.

5 I know what you mean and are appreciating your help.

_____

6 We are playing football during most school breaks.

UNIT 2

Present perfect vs. past simple

Students often confuse the present perfect and past simple tenses.

We use the past simple when we include a past time expression to say when in the past an event took place.

✓ Yesterday I ate rice.

✗ Yesterday I ~~have eaten~~ rice.

We use the present perfect to talk about past events when we don't say exactly when they took place and with expressions such as yet, before, ever and never.

✓ I've never been to London before.

✗ I ~~didn't go~~ to London before.

Make sentences using the prompts below.

0 we / see / the advertisement at the bus stop / yesterday

We saw the advertisement at the bus stop yesterday.

1 I / not see / the new Hobbit film / yet

_____

2 you / ever / go / to Spain?

_____

3 John / take / his exam / last week

_____

4 Nina / get / here / a few minutes ago

_____

5 they / not eat / at this restaurant / before

_____

- 6 I / not eat / breakfast / so I'm really hungry and it's two hours till lunchtime!
- _____
- _____

Past continuous vs. past simple

Learners sometimes confuse the past continuous with the past simple.

- ✓ I was happy when I came first in the race.
 ✗ I was happy when I was coming first in the race.

Which of these sentences are correct and which are incorrect? Rewrite the incorrect ones.

- 0 Last time I was visiting the library, I couldn't find the book I was looking for.
Last time I visited the library, I couldn't find the book I was looking for.

UNIT 3 should

Learners often use would and must instead of should.

- ✓ Lots of people think that animals should be free.
 ✗ Lots of people think that animals must be free.

For each pair of sentences tick the correct one.

- 1 A  Your computer is very slow. I think you should upgrade your system.
 B  Your computer is very slow. I think you must upgrade your system.
- 2 A  Sally wouldn't have emigrated if she hadn't been unhappy here.

 B  We must launch the new product before the end of the month or we won't hit the sales figures. We've no option.

UNIT 4

Second conditional tenses

Learners sometimes use the wrong tenses in the clauses of the second conditional.

We form the second conditional by using the past simple tense in the if clause, and the would form in the main clause.

✓ If I knew what to do, I would do it.

✗ If I ~~would know~~ what to do, I would do it.

Correct the following sentences.

- 1 If you answered my email I will be very pleased.

_____
- 6 I will love it if you could visit me in the holidays.
_____

UNIT 5

Past perfect vs. past simple

Learners often confuse the past perfect with the past simple.

We use the past perfect tense to refer to events which happened at an earlier point in the past, compared with another past event. We use the past simple for an event which occurred generally in the past.

✓ By the time I got there, he had left.

✗ By the time I got there, he ~~left~~.

Rewrite the sentences using the correct form of the verb in brackets.

- 0 The trip was awesome because I (dream) about it all my life.
The trip was awesome because I had dreamed about it all my life.

_____
- 5 Do you like these jeans? I (buy) them yesterday.
_____
- 6 The letter was from Brown University – they (accept) me!
_____

UNIT 6

Present simple passive vs. past simple passive

Learners sometimes confuse the present simple passive with the past simple passive.

We use the past simple passive to refer to events which took place in the past.

- ✓ I was really surprised when I first read the email.
- ✗ I am really surprised when I first read the email.

We use the present simple passive for events which have started and are still going on now.

- ✓ We'll go to Paris in two weeks – the tickets are booked.
- ✗ We'll go to Paris in two weeks – the tickets were booked.

Correct the following sentences.

- 1 I always keep shopping until the mall was closed.

_____
- 6 I am given a puppy for my last birthday.
_____

UNIT 7

Relative pronouns

Learners sometimes confuse who and which.

We use who to refer to people and which to refer to things.

- ✓ Next week I'm going to visit my Uncle Joe, who lives in Manchester.
- ✗ Next week I'm going to visit my Uncle Joe, which lives in Manchester.

Complete the sentences with who or which.

- 5 She was the only one _____ talked to me.
- 6 He's currently working for a charity _____ helps elderly people.

UNIT 8

say vs. tell

Learners sometimes confuse say and tell.

The meaning of say and tell is exactly the same but we use them differently.

We tell someone (something) and we say something (to someone).

- ✓ I didn't say anything to my brother about it.
- ✗ I didn't tell anything to my brother about it.

We can also use a that clause immediately after tell, but not after say.

- ✓ Tell her that I'll phone her.
- ✗ Say her that I'll phone her.

There are some collocations we can use with tell that don't follow the above rules: we can tell a lie / the truth / a story.

Complete each of these sentences with the correct form of say or tell.

- 0 Everybody said something about himself, and so did I.
- 1 I have to _____ that this is a great piece of writing. Well done!

- 6 I'd like to _____ a big thank you for all your help this year.
- 7 I knew that he _____ the truth.

UNIT 9

Modals of deduction in the present

It is a common error to use can as a present modal of deduction, where could is required. In the negative, however, it is possible to use can't as well as couldn't.

- ✓ I'm not sure why they decided not to buy tickets to see the band, but it could be due to lack of money.
- ✗ I'm not sure why they decided not to buy tickets to see the band, but it can be due to lack of money.

Match the two parts of the sentences and rewrite them as one sentence using either that or which. Use that where possible.

Historical events that changed cities forever

1 Work in pairs. Answer the questions:

- 1 Can you name a historical event that changed the life of your city?
- 2 What happened then?
- 3 Can you name some historical buildings in your city? What is their story?

2 Some historical events or natural disasters changed the shape of cities forever. Read the information below to find out how a powerful earthquake affected the lives of people in San Francisco.

At 5am on 18th April 1906, before most of San Francisco's citizens had woken up, a very strong earthquake hit the city. At least three more earthquakes had affected the city before, but none of them had been so devastating. In 1906, the earthquake was followed by a massive fire which caused most of the damage. The earthquake and fire killed around 3,000 people and left 200,000 people homeless, destroying 28,000 buildings. The shaking had been so strong that the City Hall collapsed entirely and the glass roof of the Palace Hotel shattered into pieces.

Some people who had lost their homes camped in the city's Golden Gate Park, while others found shelter in tents on the beaches. Before the earthquake, the population of San Francisco had grown significantly, due to immigration and people arriving in search of gold. There was a need for more land space, but the city didn't have any building standards or environmental impact regulations.

After the earthquake, financial aid came from around the country and from Europe, but those who survived knew they would face a difficult period. At the time of the disaster, San Francisco had been the ninth largest city in the United States and the largest on the West Coast, known as the 'gateway to the Pacific'. Over 80% of the city was destroyed by the earthquake and fire, so people started to rebuild the city quickly. Their intention was to build a city that could resist earthquake and fire, so new buildings and technologies appeared, at a time when the science of seismology was developing.

The life of the city changed forever. The lesson learned from this devastation would play an important role in the future planning of cities.

The history of film

Synopsis of my favourite film

1 Work in pairs. Answer the questions.

- 1 Have you ever seen a silent film?
- 2 Have you ever seen a film in black and white?
- 3 Why do you think some people don't like films with special effects? Make a list of films with great special effects.
- 4 What's your favourite 3D film? Why?
- 5 What do you think will be the next stage in the development of film?

2 Scan the text to find the answers to these questions.

- 1 What technology did Etienne Gaspar Robert use to impress his audiences?
- 2 What did Edison and Dickenson invent and how did it work?
- 3 What years are referred to as the 'Golden Era of Hollywood'?

When Pictures Learnt to Walk and Talk: The History of Film

Early days: the magic lantern

Since its early days, the evolution of the art of film has been influenced by the development of science.

Several scientists in the 18th century (amongst them Kircher, Huygens and Fontana) developed devices that used hand-drawn pictures on a reflecting surface, a candle and a simple lens to project images onto a wall. These devices are now known as 'magic lanterns'.

More than a hundred years later, in 1798 in Paris, Etienne Gaspar Robert's magic lantern presentations were the talk of the town. His audience sat on one side of a transparent screen while he sat on the other with his magic lantern. He regularly succeeded in scaring his enthusiastic audiences with images of witches, ghosts and other spooky creatures. He created these images by using various technical tricks such as moving the lantern, using a shutter to create fading effects and changing the focus. In many ways, his shows were the forerunner of modern horror films.

The invention of film

The late 19th century saw the development of reel film. At first it was made of paper and then, later, of a scientific invention called celluloid. In the USA, Thomas Edison and William Dickenson invented a camera that automatically took a picture of a moving object every half second. The pictures were then transferred onto film and could be watched through a machine called the kinoscope. The film could only be watched by one person at a time, looking through a small window to see the moving images.

The next step in the evolution of film was when brothers Auguste and Louis Lumière developed the cinematographe, which made it possible to take moving pictures and project large images. This used the same lens technology as that which had been developed for the magic lantern. They started producing short films that were all roughly 50 seconds long. The most famous one was 'The Arrival of a Train at La Ciotat Station'. It is said that when the film was shown for the first time, the audience was so startled by the huge image of the train coming towards them that they started to scream and run away.

Hollywood

The 1920s were the most important years for the development of modern film. In that period, film studios came into existence and 'stars' were born. The film industry began to flourish, with Hollywood becoming the world's number one place for film production, with over 800 films being made there each year.

The 1930s are often called the Golden Era of Hollywood, which is famous for the development of the first talkies (up to then all films had been silent), documentaries and also Western films.

These days, of course, modern cinema audiences are used to state-of-the-art computer generated imagery (CGI) to bring fantastical worlds and incredibly realistic creatures onto the screen in stunning 3D. It's sometimes difficult to see how it can be improved upon. But as science and technology continue to develop at lightning speed, we can assume that our cinematic experience will continue to get better and better.

Idea incubation and wise geeks

An album

1 Work in small groups. Discuss these questions.

- 1 Is it important to be the first person to do something? Why? / Why not?
- 2 What's more important: coming first in a competition or just taking part in it?
- 3 Do you have a favourite invention? What is it and who invented it?

2 Read the information about the young inventor Cornel Amariei in the text below. Have you heard of this young scientist before?

Cornel Amariei is a 24-year-old inventor, and the first Romanian to be included in the 2018 edition of the top ten Outstanding Young Persons, organised by Junior Chamber International (JCI), in Goa, India. He developed fifty new inventions in just five years. He also founded Romania's first high-school Robotics Club.

This young and talented Romanian engineer studied Electrical Engineering and Computer Science at Jacobs University in Bremen, Germany. In 2013, he started working on his most important invention: Lumen, a device that uses a 3-D scanner and vibrating sensors to help the blind manage on their own. It works like a pair of glasses, except that it uses electrical impulses which represent the environment in front of a person. Lumen helps blind people find their way and be more independent, though it does not offer information about the colour or shape of objects.

At one point in his career, Cornel Amariei was leading 18 separate innovation projects, dealing for example with new sensor technologies, communication protocols or smart connectivity between vehicles and smart devices.

Cornel is not only interested in science, he also has other hobbies. He loves sports, photography, travelling and music, and he can play several musical instruments as well.

Eat healthily to save the planet!

A leaflet

1 Work in pairs. Discuss these questions.

- 1 Have you ever tried a vegetarian diet?
- 2 Do you know the difference between being a vegan and being a vegetarian?
- 3 Talk about the pros and cons of being a vegetarian from your point of view.

2 Read the information below to find out how our eating habits affect the environment.

We all know that a balanced diet is an important element of a healthy lifestyle. But how many people really understand that what we eat can influence the health of our planet?

Recent studies have shown that our food choices can have positive or negative effects on people and nature, and that by improving our own health, we can protect the planet. A diverse and sustainable diet is good for the environment, while a lack of diversity in our diets and the exaggerated consumption of some products will damage nature. For example, overfishing is threatening entire marine ecosystems as many species are extensively fished. A huge amount of land and water is used to grow crops, and organic farming seems to be too expensive to cover the increasing needs of the population.

It has been estimated that the global population will reach around 10 billion people by 2050, so the planet will have to produce more food and faster. Therefore, what we eat and the quantity of foods we need are directly linked to soil quality, pollution, human emissions of greenhouse gases and deforestation. Even producing palm oil, a product considered healthy and strongly recommended in various diets, can turn out to be a real threat for nature due to the massive deforestation it involves. Eating meat is even more concerning because it encourages animal agriculture, the biggest cause of global warming and increased greenhouse gas emissions, and also a major threat to biodiversity.

According to scientists, a green diet can be an environmentally sustainable solution when it comes to stopping global warming, protecting animals, reducing costs and saving energy. Animal-based foods should be replaced with plant-based products like cereal, fruit and vegetables.

An eco-friendly diet means giving up red meat and junk food for fruit, vegetables, beans, lentils, nuts and seeds, although there are some diets that include dairy and occasional meat consumption. For example, the flexitarian diet (also known as semi-vegetarianism) focuses on fruit, vegetables, eggs and dairy, with a moderate inclusion of meat and fish, while the Mediterranean diet is mainly plant-based, centred around foods that are good for your heart such as fish and olive oil.

The best thing we can start doing right now to avoid harming the environment is eat more cereal, fruit and vegetables and always think whether the food on your plate comes from eco-friendly resources.

3 Look at the following phrases from the text and try to explain their meaning in English.

- sustainable solutions
- green diet
- overfishing
- organic farming
- flexitarian diet
- greenhouse gas emissions

4 Think of ways to raise awareness about environmental problems among teenagers. Role-play a conversation with a friend on Skype who wants you to get involved in a project to introduce green diets in schools.

5 In small groups, design a leaflet to popularise the importance of green diets for the planet.

Step 1 Design the leaflet and do some research to include more information about:

- a sustainable farming
- b vegan diets and recipes
- c meat consumption and global warming
- d reasons why adopting a green diet is good for the planet.

Step 2 Search for pictures in books, magazines or on the Internet. Write three paragraphs about:

- what the problem is;
- possible solutions;
- reasons for opting for these solutions.

Put the information together and include it in the leaflet. Ask for feedback from the other members of your team.

Step 3 Present your leaflet to the class. Have a class vote to choose the best three leaflets.

Check your results!

Rules for kids and parents

A class debate

- Read each sentence and choose a number from 1–5 (1 = I strongly agree, 5 = I strongly disagree.)

1 Teenagers should set their own bedtimes.	1 2 3 4 5
2 Teenagers should have a part-time job to earn their own pocket money.	1 2 3 4 5
3 Teenagers should choose what they eat.	1 2 3 4 5
4 Teenagers should spend weekends with parents / family.	1 2 3 4 5
5 Teenagers should help around the house.	1 2 3 4 5
- Discuss your answers from Exercise 1 in small groups. Which question(s) do almost all of you agree on? And which one(s) do almost all of you disagree on? Why?
- Look at the book presentation. What kind of book do you think it is? Read the introduction to find out.

Many people wonder how Chinese parents bring up such successful children. They wonder what Chinese parents do to produce so many mathematical and musical geniuses, what it's like inside the family, and if they could do it too. Well, Amy Chua can tell them, because she's done it.

***

Her daughters, Sophia and Louisa were polite, intelligent and helpful.

They were two years ahead of their classmates in Maths and had amazing musical abilities. But Sophia and Louisa weren't allowed to spend a night at a friend's house, be in a school play, choose what they wanted to do after school, or get any grade lower than an A.

***

In Battle Hymn of the Tiger Mother, Amy Chua tells of her experiences bringing up her children the 'Chinese way'. It is a story about a mother and two daughters and two very different cultures. Funny, entertaining and provocative, this is an important book that will change your ideas about parenting forever.

- Read these two opinions from readers of Amy Chua's book. Which one is 'for' and which one is 'against' the Tiger mum style of parenting? What reasons do they give?

For and against – Tiger Mums

This is an interesting book but Amy Chua's parenting ideas are too strict for me. For example, Tiger mums don't let their children watch any TV or play any computer games. How can any child in the 21st Century grow up without playing on a computer? What is she trying to do? Take away their childhoods?

I do understand that she feels she was only doing the best for her children and trying to help them get ahead in life. But there are loads of children who spend hours in front of the TV and still do well.

Stephanie, 15

I think Amy Chua's ideas are fantastic. Yes, she was hard on her children at times, but she did bring up two amazing children. Her daughters are so confident, they'll do really well in life.

Too many parents are soft on their children these days. They use the TV as a way of keeping them quiet. They don't have enough time for their children. My mum and dad are strict and they don't let me do a lot of things my friends do. It is hard at times, but they are always there when I need help with my school work or have a problem with other students at school. They are just trying to do their best for me.

Tim, 16

5 Read the texts again. Who might say these things? Write Amy, Stephanie or Tim.

- 1 I talk about my problems with my parents.
- 2 No, you can't sleep at Chloe's house.
- 3 Children need to be free to make some of their own decisions.
- 4 My parents don't let me watch much TV, but that's OK.
- 5 You'll thank me one day.
- 6 You can't make children be what you want them to be.

6 Work in pairs and answer the questions.

- 1 Who do you agree with most, Tim or Stephanie? Why?
- 2 Can you think of any other examples of strict rules that parents have?

7 Your class is organising a debate on family rules and ways to bridge the generation gap between parents and children as main topics. The teacher will divide the class into two teams: one of the teams will support the idea of strict rules in the family, the other team will bring arguments against it.

Step 1 Do some research reading books, magazines or surfing the Internet on the generation gap.

Watch videos that focus on parent-child relationships whether in TV series or in real life.

Make notes on the best ways to bridge the generation gap and communicate with today's teenagers.

Step 2 Prepare arguments to support your point of view, depending on which side you are on. Include your point of view and examples from your own experience.

Ask the other members of your team about ways to bridge the generation gap.

Step 3 Prepare the general summary of your position on the topic with supporting arguments. Present your arguments for debate in your classroom.

A biography of a storyteller

1 Work in pairs. Answer the questions.

- 1 What do you think makes a good story?
- 2 What was your favourite book when you were a child?
- 3 Do you like reading fantasy books? Why? / Why not?

2 Read the following biography of a famous storyteller. Have you read any books by J.R. R. Tolkien?

John Ronald Reuel Tolkien (1892–1973) was an English writer, poet and professor of Anglo-Saxon (Old English) at the University of Oxford. He is the author of the well-known epic fantasy books that have been adapted for the screen: 'The Hobbit' (1937) and its sequel 'The Lord of the Rings' (1954–1955), both set in an imaginary world named Middle-earth, a land inhabited by hobbits, dwarves, elves, and wizards.

Tolkien was born in South Africa, where his father was a bank clerk. When his father died, he returned to England together with his mother and his younger brother Hilary Arthur. In 1904, his mother died of diabetes, a fatal disease at that time since insulin had not yet been invented. Left orphaned at the age of 12, Tolkien received support from a priest, Father Francis, an aunt and a woman called Mrs. Faulkner, owner of a boarding house.

Young Ronald proved to be very gifted with learning foreign languages. He learned Latin and Greek and studied many other languages, both modern and ancient, such as Gothic and later on Finnish. He even started to make up his own languages, for fun. When he attended school at King Edward's, he made a number of close friends. They used to meet after classes at the Barrow Stores, a tea shop, so they called themselves the 'T. C. B. S.' (Tea Club, Barrovian Society). Their friendship continued until 1916, when some of them died in the war.

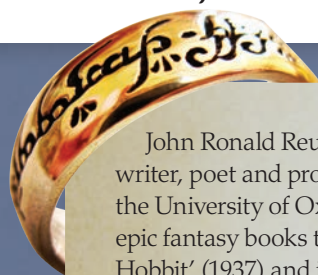

When Ronald was 16, he met a young woman, Edith Bratt, who was also a lodger at Mrs. Faulkner's boarding house. They fell in love, but Ronald was unable to see the girl until he turned 21, because Father Francis forbade their relationship so that Ronald could focus on his studies. They eventually got married in Warwick on 22nd March 1916, before Tolkien was sent on the Western Front, where he took part in the battle for the Somme. He caught 'trench fever', a typhus-like infection common during the war, and he was sent back to England.

He became a professor at Oxford and started a happy family life, while continuing to invent new characters and languages. One day, while he was marking exam papers, he found a blank page in a student's answer-book. He then wrote on it 'In a hole in the ground there lived a hobbit'. This was the sentence that opened 'The Hobbit', which would later become one of the most loved and praised books for children.

After its publishing in 1937, readers immediately wanted a sequel so Tolkien began the epic novel 'The Lord of the Rings' (originally published in three volumes between 1954 and 1955). It took him more than ten years to write the famous novel and he needed the support of his friends. One of them was C.S. Lewis, the author of 'The Chronicles of Narnia'.

After Tolkien's death, his son, Christopher Tolkien, continued to publish his work, including some lesser known works, in a series of twelve volumes called 'The History of Middle-earth'.

- 3 In groups of four, search for other details about Tolkien's life. Write down what you consider to be relevant for his work or what you think was a source of inspiration for his novels. Report your findings to the class.
- 4 Do some research on YouTube, look for biographical films, documentaries or screen versions of Tolkien's books. Choose a video and present it to the class, explaining why you have selected the video for a discussion about Tolkien's work.
- 5 In pairs, you are going to write a wiki page about a storyteller that you like.

Step 1 Find out information on how to write a biography of a famous storyteller.

Carry out research using books, magazines and the Internet to find information about his/her life and work. Search for pictures related to the storyteller and his/her work.

Make a list of the film adaptations based on his/her work. Find video footage online (documentaries, film adaptations etc.).

Step 2 Think of people who may be able to help you, for example:

- your History teacher,
- your ICT teacher,
- your Romanian teacher,
- your English teacher.

Step 3 Put the information together and write a wiki page for your class blog. Get feedback from the other students. Have a class vote for the best biography/wiki page and post it on your class blog or print it.

Missing painting found

Arthur Brand

Pablo Picasso

A very expensive painting by Pablo Picasso stolen from a billionaire's yacht in France in 1999 was found and recovered 21 years later. It was identified by Arthur Brand, a Dutch art detective who told the journalists that he had been investigating the case for years, in Amsterdam. He also estimated it to be worth around 21 million pounds. He said he didn't know what would happen next, but his intention was to give the art object to an insurance company.

Before it was found, Picasso's work had been circulating in the criminal underworld for almost 20 years and people wanted to know how the art detective was able to confirm that the work was authentic. Although he did not give too many details, he explained that he realised it was a real Picasso when he looked at the back of the painting. He explained that experts use this method when dealing with stolen art.

The 1938 painting is called Buste de Femme or simply Portrait of Dora Maar. Dora Maar was a famous French artist considered to be Pablo Picasso's muse for seven years. Picasso indeed kept the painting in his home until his death in 1973.

Brand stated that the first time he realised that it was this particular masterpiece instead of another targeted in a previous theft, was in 2015, when he heard that a stolen Picasso had been spotted in the Netherlands. Then he was called by two representatives of a Dutch businessman, who claimed that they could send him the painting. It is not very clear whether money was paid for it or not, but Brand got the painting and analysed it to make sure it was authentic. Moreover, a team of Picasso experts from the Pace Gallery in New York came to Amsterdam to have a look as well.

It is rumoured that Brand was so happy to find the painting that he kept it in his house for one night, to feel the magic of having a Picasso on the wall, before returning it.

- 4 In pairs, do some research on the Internet to find other recent cases of stolen art. Make notes and report your findings to the class, as a piece of news.

- 6 You are going to make a newscast for your class blog.

Step 1 Look up the word newscast in a dictionary. Find out information on how to prepare and present a newscast. Look for examples on the Internet or on TV.

Step 2 Think of people who may be able to help you, for example:

- your ICT teacher,
- your Art teacher,
- a reporter from a local television channel.

Step 3 Choose a recent event in the life of your town. Collect photos and videos of the event. Choose a partner who will be the presenter or the voice-over of your newscast. Put the information together and produce a newscast for your class blog. Present it to the class.

Lost civilisations

1 Work in pairs. Answer the questions.

- 1 Can you name some mysterious monuments? What do you know about them?
- 2 Why do you think some old civilisations disappeared?
- 3 Is there any mysterious monument or place in your country?

2 Read the information about the mystery of Easter Island. Have you heard about this place before?

What really happened to Rapa Nui?

Easter Island, also called Rapa Nui, is situated in the eastern Pacific Ocean. Its position is quite isolated from any other country – 2,300 miles west of South America and 2,200 miles west of Chile.

The first European visitors, Dutch navigators and explorers, named the land “Easter Island” because they discovered it on Easter Sunday, on 5th April 1722. Much of the island, declared Rapa Nui National Park, has been on the list of the UNESCO World Heritage Sites since 1995. It is home to about 900 large stone carvings of moai, human-faced statues placed on giant stone platforms (ahus), which must have been really difficult to build.

Historians and archeologists believe that the first people to inhabit the island arrived from Polynesia between the years AD 300 and 1000. It is not known how exactly they arrived there but they were the ones to build moai, also known as the Easter Island heads, somewhere between AD 1100–1680.

Scientists have different opinions about the importance of the statues to the inhabitants of the island. They may have carved them in order to represent their ancestors or use them in their spring rituals. A recent study has revealed that the Rapa Nui could have placed the large stone blocks in some areas of the island, sometimes near caves, to mark sources of fresh water, which also explains why they can be found inland as well as on the coast.

Constructing and later moving these statues next to the ocean must have been difficult without modern technology. Legends say that the statues would move around by themselves. However, there are no written records to clarify the origins of this lost civilisation and its enormous statues – statues that can reach 9 metres high and weigh 200 tons.

A question that still stands today is: how did the Rapa Nui civilisation disappear? Most researchers believe that an environmental catastrophe caused by deforestation and soil erosion ruined the eco-system on the island either killing the inhabitants or forcing them to emigrate.

Nowadays, the island is an important tourist attraction, although conservationists are struggling to preserve the statues, as the huge blocks of volcanic stones are deteriorating and could simply disappear in the future.

3 Read the article again and discuss these questions in pairs. Write your answers to the questions and then compare them.

- 1 Where is Easter Island?
- 2 Why is it called Easter Island?
- 3 Who built the stone statues?
- 4 How do you think the inhabitants moved the statues next to the ocean?

4a In pairs, search for other examples of mysterious monuments and lost civilisations in books, magazines or on the Internet. Write a short presentation following the model in Exercise 2. You can think about the Pyramids, Stonehenge, the Forbidden City, Atlantis, Petra, etc.

4b Now choose one of the monuments presented in Exercise 3 and role-play a dialogue between a reporter and an archeologist who has his/her own theory about the place.

5 You are going to make a podcast for your class blog.

Step 1 Look up the word 'podcast' in a dictionary. Find out information on how to prepare and present a podcast. Search for examples on YouTube or on the radio.

Step 2 Think of people who may be able to help you, for example:

- your ICT teacher,
- your History teacher,
- a reporter from a local television channel.

Step 3 Choose a famous monument which was built by a lost civilisation. Gather information and express your opinion about it, making deductions and speculations. Choose a partner to be the presenter or the voice-over of the podcast. Put the information together and produce a podcast for your class blog.

Exquisite destinations of the world

A travel leaflet

DISCOVER TRANSYLVANIA

TRAVELLING TO SIBIU

First documented in 1191 AD, Sibiu (Hermannstadt in German) is one of the most beautiful Transylvanian cities in the heart of Romania. It was built by the German Saxons in the 12th century and soon became an important trade centre. Traders and craftsmen settled in the city and established the multicultural community which still defines it today.

Ranked as the 8th-most idyllic place to live in Europe by Forbes magazine, it was the first Romanian city to be named European Capital of Culture in 2007, which increased its popularity with tourists from all over the world.

It is divided into the Upper and Lower Towns, a pedestrian area with beautiful squares, small cafés, uncrowded streets, lovely bookshops and museums. The Eyes of Sibiu city, narrow windows in the attics of old houses, are a strange and beautiful feature of the local architecture that seem to be watching you at every step.

The city has a rich cultural life, with popular events, excellent local cuisine, street shows and festivals that you can attend all year round, ending with a wonderful Christmas Market which can compete with similar markets in Budapest or Vienna. You must book in advance if you want to participate in the most popular major events such as the International Theatre Festival, the Jazz Festival or Sibiu International Film Festival.

Here are a few places you can visit in town:

- The Big Square
- The Council Tower (an observation clock tower from the 13th century, which gives you the opportunity to see the city from above)
- The Bridge of Lies
- Albert Huet Square
- The Stairs Passage
- The Brukenthal National Museum (opened in 1817)
- The Pharmacy Museum

You can get there:

 by plane: Sibiu International Airport
 by car: National Road DN1

 by train: Sibiu Train Station by bus: Transmixt Sibiu station; Flixbus
